Summary: (machine translated)
Quite vertical canyon over the Molinar reservoir from the Barrio del Santuario. It is only "fattened" in its final part with the two rappels of 40m in cantilever.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
In the middle of the ravine

Access: (machine translated)
We must be located in the Villa de Ves.
We will follow the road down to the Molinar reservoir, just to reach the Barrio del Santuario there is a left fork with a track that goes straight ahead, we will get into it until the end and park.

Approach: (machine translated)
Almost immediately, we follow the road that follows the track to the entrance

Tour: (machine translated)
A first part more open and after the escape, it closes a little for the two high rappels of 22m.

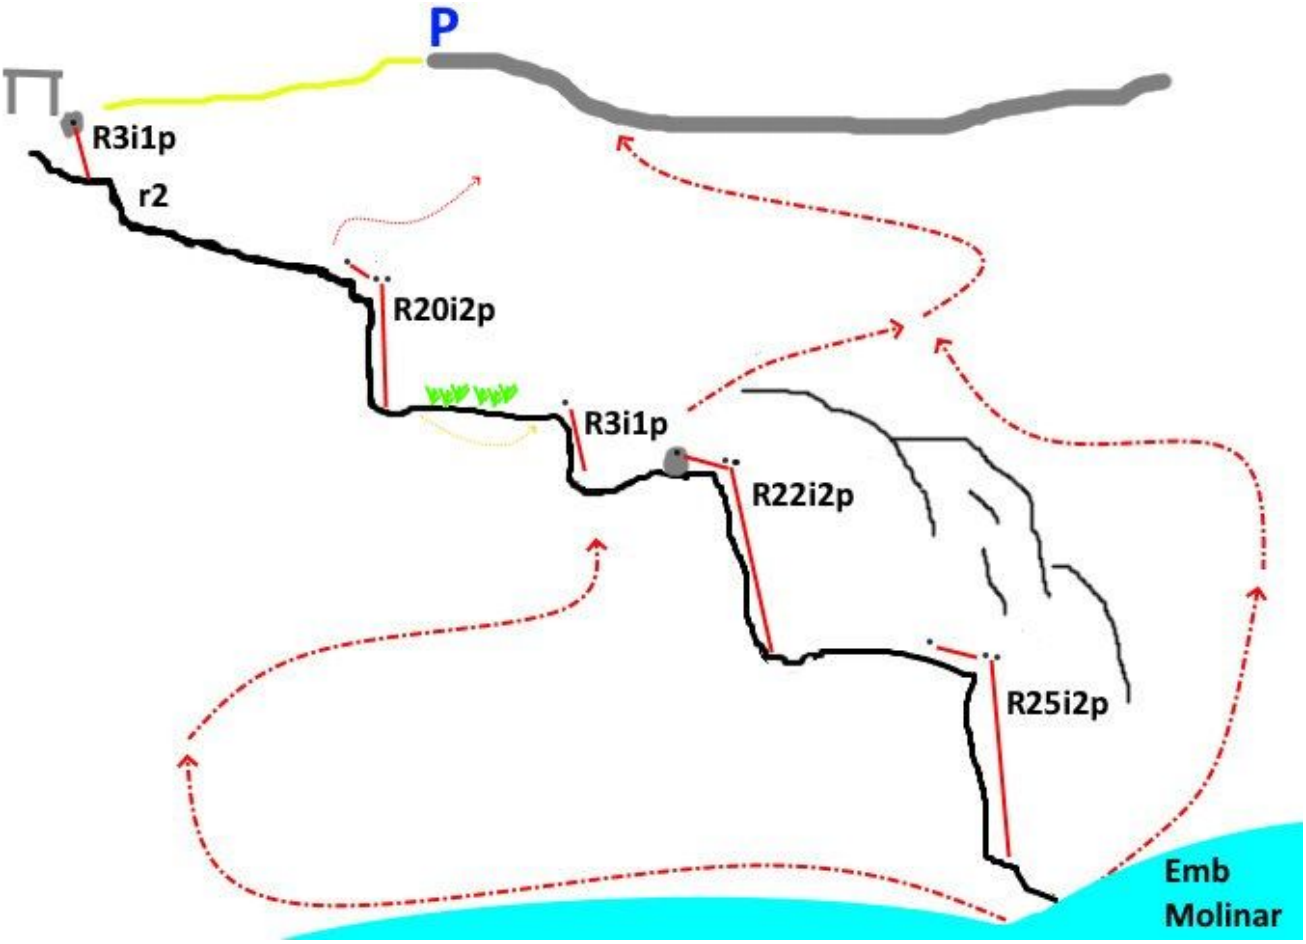

Return: (machine translated)
Arriving at the reservoir two options:
To the right about 300m to climb to take a path that leads to the exhaust, we will cross the ravine and go another 150m until we see where to go up to the left towards the track.
If we leave to the left we will walk about 350m to turn left to climb to the "path" of the escape. Here as in the previous option we will look for the way up to the track along the slope.
