Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Canyon of the Sierra de Crevillente ideal for beginners. Simple rappels and accesses and returns not too long/complicated. Perfect to combine with any other in the sierra.
Better to avoid the summer or at least the hours of more sunshine.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Possible as it is not too boxed in but the environment is not the best to look for a way out.

Access: (machine translated)
Crevillente ravines situation
By the A7 we go to Crevillente. If we go from Alicante we leave by the N340 we enter the town.
Situation parking and access to Crevillente ravines
Just at the entrance of Crevillente we take the first street on the right, a wide avenue that leads us to the north of the village, we pass by the health center leaving it on the left. We will continue straight ahead and then take some streets to the left in search of Calle Molinos. We will leave the village leaving the Ermita de Sant Pascual on the left, we continue along the same road to "Els Pontets" where we turn right to pass underneath.
After 500m we take a detour to the left that takes us into a valley that we climb and reach a small esplanade, we continue along the road for another 500m to the base of the mountain and at a turn to the left where the track climbs up the slope we park.

Approach: (machine translated)
Approach barranc del Fort
From the parking there is a path along the slope that goes up the NE direction, will make a left turn on the ravine to go to the head and to reach the height of an old track access to the riverbed.

Tour: (machine translated)
Very simple, perfect for beginners. It only lacks the water

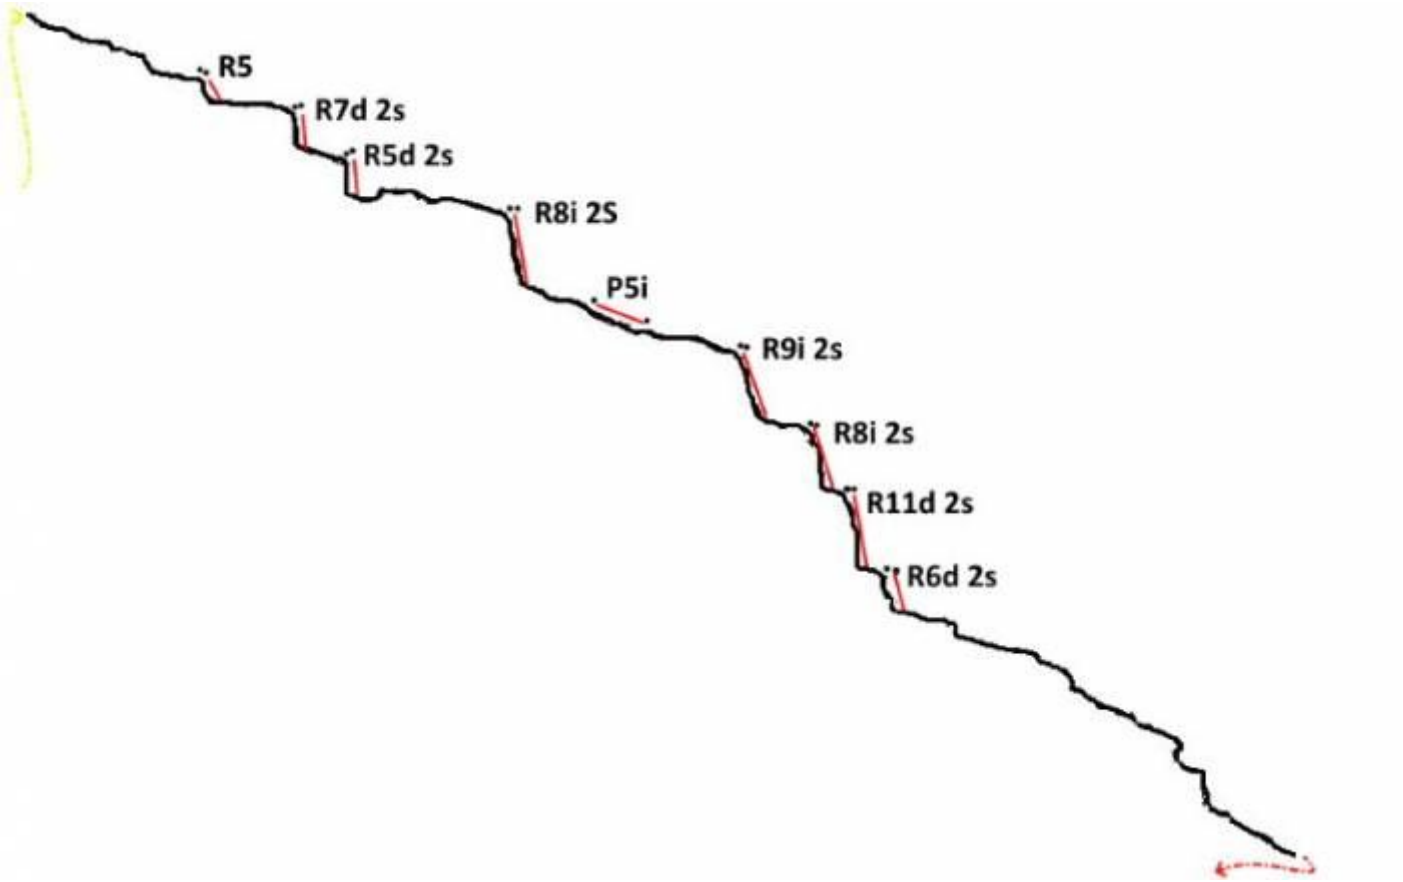

Return: (machine translated)
Just when the ravine opens we will see a milestone on the right, we will go out through the basin of a dry creek to go uphill towards the place where we parked.
