Summary: (machine translated)
Further gorge sections in the large valley to the west below Castelmola. You can at least find water here after rain.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
From Villagonia, take the narrow road under the highway up the valley. It is best to park respectfully on the road at 37°51.00493'N, 15°16.24045'E next to the house.

Approach: (machine translated)
At 37°51.00493'N, 15°16.24045'E turn right down a bad road to the entry 37°51.27721'N, 15°16.26473'E.

Tour: (machine translated)
Good equipment
1. 4m
2. 3 m hanging rope
3. 4m
4. several short T partly with BH
5. 2BH 3 m access to 14 m rappel, chain
6. short T

The 14 m rappel in the watercourse is, depending on the water supply, the most rewarding part of the canyon.

To be on the safe side, you can install a fixed rope (20 m) as an emergency exit at the pipe bridge visible from above. The gorges are very overgrown. Depending on the vegetation, head into the streambed and through the reeds to the first abseil point.

Return: (machine translated)
After the old water building, immediately take the barely visible path on the right (garden shears helpful) up to the pipe bridge and from there continue up to the access.
