Summary: (machine translated)
Dry rappel canyon in marble rock

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
We leave the A 12 (Genova - Pisa) at the Massa exit, cross the town and head into the mountains towards Forno. About 3 km further (after Forno) the asphalt road ends (375m above sea level). Here we park our car (see approach under photo gallery).

Approach: (machine translated)
Now take the CAI 167/168 hiking trail to the left up into the Canale Fondone, a gravel cirque of marble stones. The path branches off at around 420m above sea level. Take the path on the right (CAI 167) and, after a long climb, reach a ridge above the Canale degli Alberghi, which offers a view of the mountain flank above. Here a track descends to the left into the dry streambed (entry).

Tour: (machine translated)
In the streambed downhill we soon reach the first rappel on smooth marble. 18 more rappels follow, interrupted by runs and steps for downclimbing (see topographic view).

Return: (machine translated)
We finally meet an accumulation of larger marble blocks, here we get off again on the access path. On this we go back down to the car.
