Summary: (machine translated)
Watery Alpine canyon

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
From Castejon de Sos in the Valle d'Esera, take the A-139 to Eriste (bridge over the river of the same name). 230 m further on, we turn left onto Calle Alta in the direction of Refugio de Angel Orús. The road climbs in many hairpin bends, the tarred road becomes a dirt track. About 3.1 km after turning off the A139, a dirt road leads off to the left to the Puente de Tramarrius. We park the car here for access. See also https://www.wikiloc.com/canyoneering-trails/2015-08-29-barranco-de-eriste-iv-o-aigueta-de-eriste-tramo-inferior-10666274
If we only have 1 car available, we take the PRHU-36 hiking trail on the orographic right bank and walk up to the Puente de Tramarrius in about 45 minutes. Approach: (machine translated)
We walk down to the Puente de Tramarrius and take the path there.
Access is also possible above the bridge from the orographic right-hand side.

Tour: (machine translated)
See topographic view. Photos and videos

Return: (machine translated)
After about 25 minutes in the open streambed, we climb out to the left at the remains of a canal and reach the car in a few minutes.

Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Eriste (inférieur) Apparemment, il a été rééquiper récemment. Mais l équipement de la grande cascade au milieu de la 1ere étroiture nous a fait réfléchir pour l accès très glissant au relais suivant en hauteur en RG (escalade un peu engagée) (Quelle: https://www.descente-canyon.com/canyoning/canyon-debit/21409/observations.html)

Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Eriste (inférieur) Journée hold UP comme dirait Romain. Eriste inf enchaîné avec Aigueta de Vall en GD+ et juste avant les premières gouttes de la tempête annoncée. Attention pour Aigueta de Vall, équipement plus que minimaliste surtout pour ce débit.
