Summary: (machine translated)
Undoubtedly, a classic of the espéleobarranquismo. The magnificent cave canyon of the Valporquero system. Caution with the flows

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Impossible, it is a cave

Access: (machine translated)
From León we leave towards Matallana de Torío and Vegacervera by the LE-311 and then the LE-315. After passing Vegacervera we will arrive at the hoces. Here in a right curve is the Calero de Felmín, we can leave the car to return.
With the access car we continue towards Felmín and without arriving we turn off to Valporquero where we will park if we want to enter by the main mouth. Or we will go up to the Atalaya if we want to access through the Sil de Perlas.

Approach: (machine translated)
To access the Sil de Perlas, we will take the path from the Atalaya in front of the parking lot in an easterly direction that leaves the hut on the left. We cross a wooden fence and continue towards the meadow and from there to a small ledge where at a turn we have the entrance with an iron gate.
The main entrance is located in a torca or dolina near the village, very well signposted.

Tour: (machine translated)
see sketch

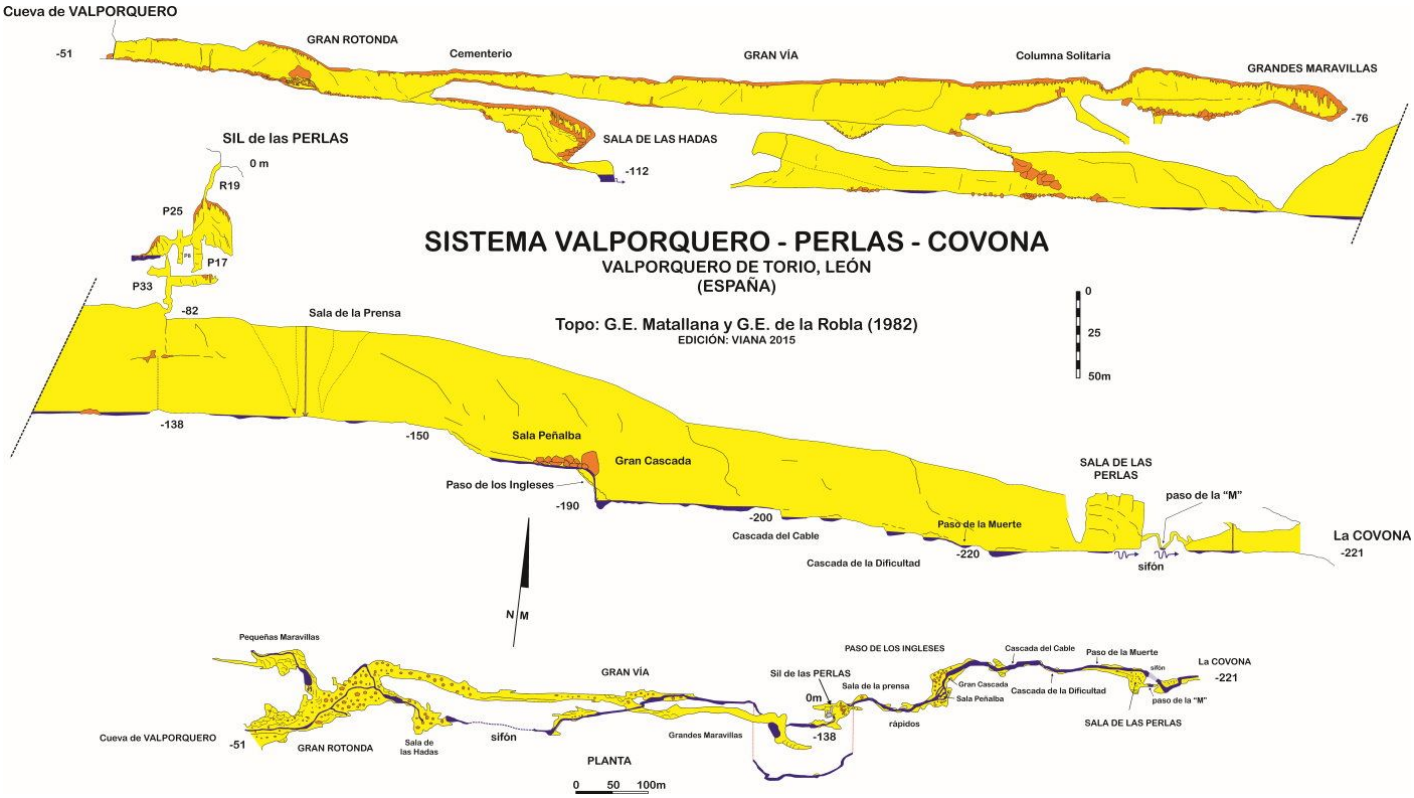

Return: (machine translated)
We will follow the river up to the Torio, which we will have to cross to go up to the road.

Coordinates:
Canyon Start 42.9064 -5.5587
