Specialities:

Gear:
Ropes: 2x40

Summary: (machine translated)
Mountain torrent, open, quite vertical and correct facilities but without too much flow except in spring, in summer it can dry out. Great views for this beautiful descent if we do it with the right flow.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
In the open parts

Access: (machine translated)
We must be located in Lanuza village, next to Sallent de Gállego.
Location of the Portet and Rutaviesas ravines
By the N260 from Sabiñánigo to Biescas. We will continue straight on towards France by the A136 until p.k. 15.2 where we have the detour to the right to Lanuza by the dam. We will go to the village itself. We will be able to park in the village or in the esplanade of the auditorium.

Approach: (machine translated)
From the forbidden access (restaurant Frondón) we have almost next to a PR that climbs steeply. In about half an hour we cross the ravine and continue climbing, we leave the forest and the trail begins to blur but we will continue east-northeast to enter the ravine.

Tour: (machine translated)
A very characteristic access ramp, followed by a series of ledges, up to the first canyoning.

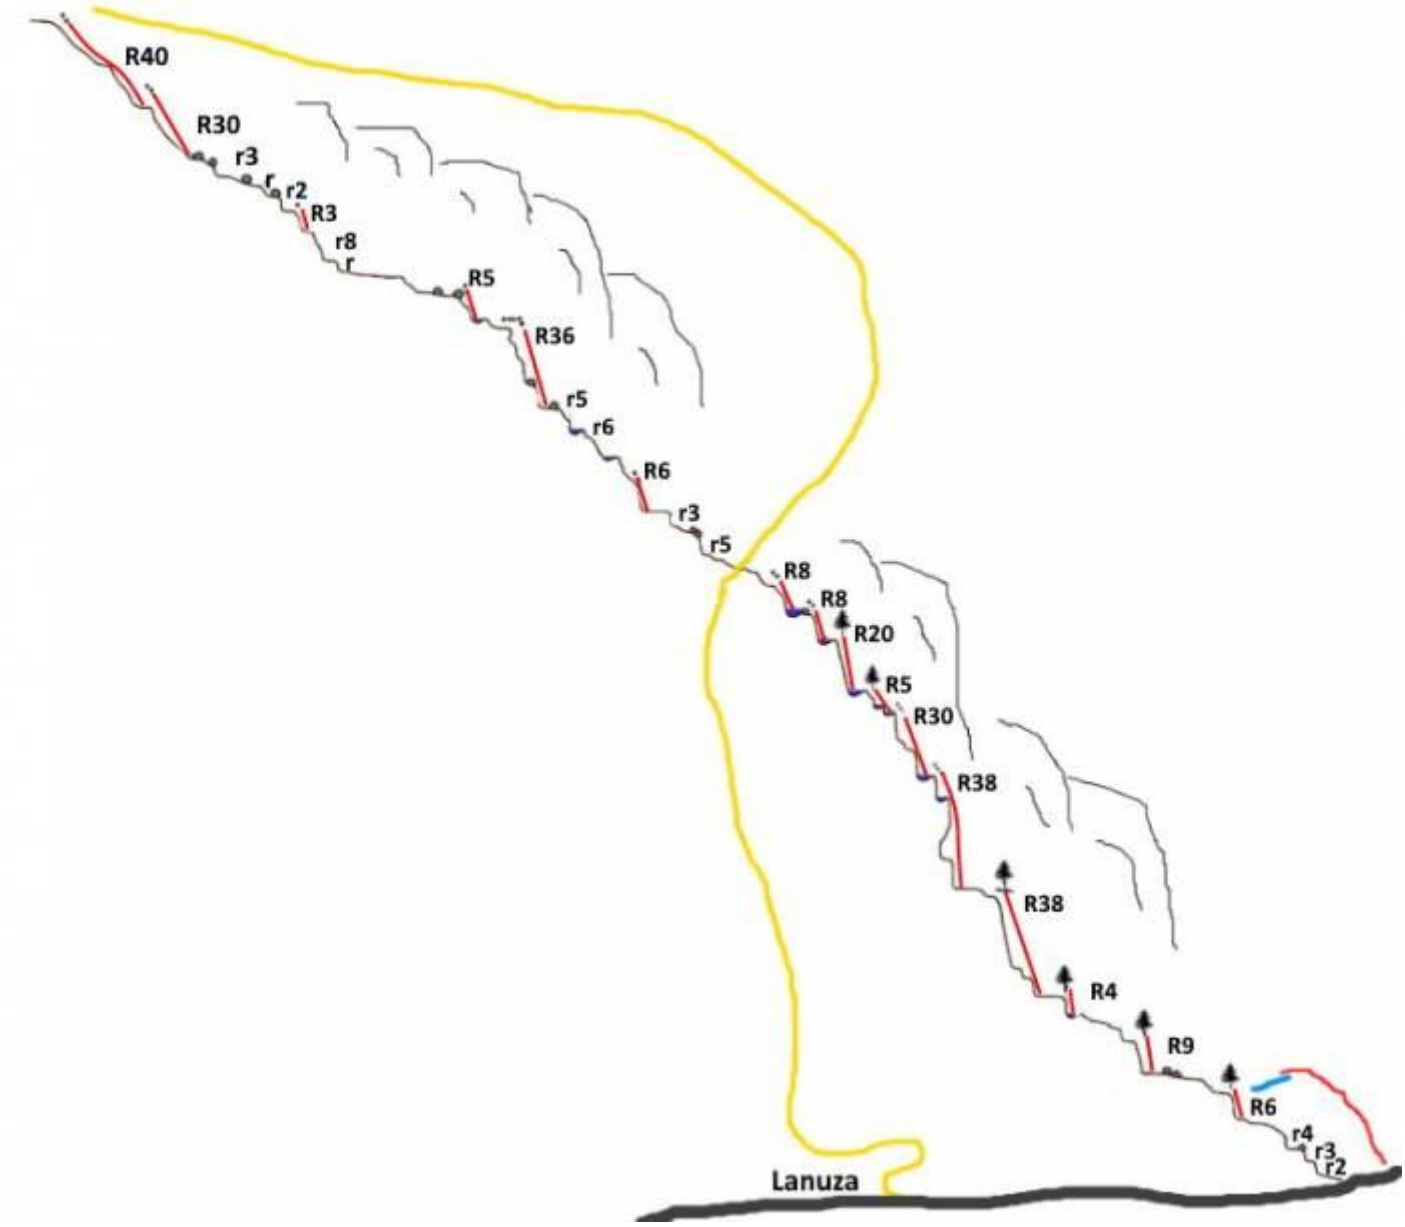

Return: (machine translated)
We will get to the road by a cliff or at the last rappel we can exit through the canalization to the left by a path.

Coordinates:
Canyon Start 42.7531 -0.3025
