Gorge with some quite technical points, like a really very aerial belay (on overhang) under a boulder; after a while the harness starts to hurt... and a mancorrente right after that is "slippery" The 70 m waterfall is very nice it is a pity it is not rigged all in the stream; I tried the toboggan in the last meters, you have to stay perfectly closed because it is very narrow the tube where the water goes down. The stream is continuous and pleasant all the way down. Weapons ok only some a bit rusty, mostly chains with ring. (machine translated)

Continuous canyon with some nice passages, one above all the large 70 m nearly vertical waterfall (can be tobogganed in the last 10/15 m), there is also a passage into a small cave and a 30 m rappel in a "tropical-like" environment. Somewhat scarce water in summer months. (machine translated)
