Recently opened canyon just next to Marbella, rappels arrampados, little verticality and not too boxed for a canyon that gains a lot after rains.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Yes at almost any time on the slopes although there is a lot of vegetation.

Access: (machine translated)
Situating us at the exit of Marbella towards Malaga or by the bullring, here we have the A355 road that takes us to Ojen.
In less than a kilometer we have a right turn with the detour to the cemetery on the left and the Cascada restaurant, we will get into this street towards the restaurant.
After 400m we arrive at the restaurant and shortly before a parking lot, in front of us a road on our right that goes up to the Sierra Blanca. We will go up until we find the end chain, there we will always see cars parked in front of the green classroom Gaianos.

Approach: (machine translated)
We continue along this track heading north towards the climbing area Puerto Rico, we go around the trail and follow it a little more before leaving it to head NW to the port of Pino. When arriving at the port we take another small path that goes to the left in search of the riverbed.

Return: (machine translated)
When the descent ends, we follow the riverbed until we can exit to the left to the parking area.
