Summary: (machine translated)
Short rappel canyon in gneiss, facing northwest

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
From Kathmandu on the Prithvi Hwy westwards towards Pokhara. After 130 km in 4 hours - if it walks well - we come to Dumre. You can also get here from Pokhara after 67 km in a good 2 hours. In Dumre we turn northwards into the valley of the river Marsyangdi and reach Besisahar after 42 km and 1.5 hours. Here the paved road ends (2011). Now on dirt road 24 km or 75 min. further to the village of Syange. This is also the approach if you approach the Annapurna Trek from the east, i.e. counterclockwise. Here or in the vicinity (e.g. in Germu on the other side of the river) we take up quarters for the ascent of the surrounding canyons.

Approach: (machine translated)
From Syange over the suspension bridge to the eastern bank of the Marsyangdi. Then on the Annapurna Circuit up to Ghermu to the Rainbow Guesthouse. Leave the trail here and head east until you reach a water catchment. Turn left here and head north to the suspension bridge over the Tarwali. See also the trail map under "Photos".

Tour: (machine translated) see "Photos

Return: (machine translated)
After the last cascade lins from the streambed and on a path to the suspension bridge over the Marsyangdi.
