Summary: (machine translated)
Simple canyon for beginners, generally dry except after heavy rains, with 3 rappels.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Not necessary up to the rappels, here you could exit to the right through the bush.

Access: (machine translated)
On the C13 going up towards Tremp, at the height of pk 70 we have on the left the rest area of Font de les Bagasses where we will park.

Approach: (machine translated)
We go back along the road about 50m and on our left we will see a path that goes up (Camí Vell de Rúbies). At an altitude of 470m just before reaching a large boulder there is a turn of the path to the left with a milestone and a path not very marked on the right. We will go through here and carefully descend to the dry riverbed.

Tour: (machine translated)
The first part is unremarkable until the very end when the canyon drops over the road and we have the 3 rappels.

Return: (machine translated)
We go out to the road and drive up it to the parking lot.
