Summary:
Reequipado en 2024. Es uno de los barrancos imprescindibles dels Ports!!, junto con Coco Fondo que también ha sido reequipado recientemente.
El final es un auténtico espectáculo! Los ultimos rápeles atraviesan un magestuoso pasillo, con gigantes paredes que hacen un giro de 90º justo antes de la gran vertical de 80m (fraccionada en dos tramos de 40m). La vertiral ha sido reinstalada y desbrozada, por lo que el descenso es limpio.
□□ Todas las pozas son evitables, ya que se encuentra camino por los laterales. La poza más conflictiva, la que le sucede al R5-27 metros, és evitable gracias a que han instaladlo una cuerda fija en el tramo final para hacer rapele guiado o tirolina.
Se puede hacer solo o combinarlo. Lo más habitual es entrar por el barranco de Tolls de Brossa (regulado y periodos prohibidos por nidifcación) y combinarlo, ya que los descensos estan enlazados. Otra opción, si te gusta la espeleología, es combinarlo con la cueva CP3 (requiere solicitar permiso), en este caso se recomienda visitar el lado de la sala gran, sala de Llac y sala Curset.

Before the circus but it's a losing trail

Access: (machine translated)
From Mas de Barberáns to Roquetes by the TV3421, in the pk 18,6 we have a detour to the Barranc de Lloret. At the end of this track there is a barrier, there is a place to park.

Approach: (machine translated)
We will continue along the same track that goes up the Bco Lloret, after 500m we cross it by a wooden bridge and we take the path on the left, the right is the return. At 700m we take the path to the right and 100m later another path to the right uphill that goes into a valley. In strong ascent we will pass a channel and an area with wooden stairs to save the existing projections. We will be attentive to some red marks along the way. Once in the Coll de Morralets we will only have to go down to the riverbed.

Tour: (machine translated)
The first part is the Barranc del Tolls de Brossa, some first skills that will take us to its vertical that has a couple of rappels to access the R60. We will be able to split it 22 + 39. A couple of more rappels and we will arrive at Cova Pintada. After a ledge and a small rappel we will enter the vertical of 110m. It has two parts, the first of 40m fractioned, a marmita with steel cable to not get into the water will allow us to rest and enjoy the views over the vertical of the R70. We will be able to split it or do it in one go.

Return: (machine translated)
After going down to the Cova Pintada, we will take a path on the left, we will follow this path along the ravine until we reach the wooden bridge over the Bco Lloret of the access.
