Summary: (machine translated)
Rppel canyon with 6 waterfalls

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
Drive through the center of Maria Alm, past the swimming pool, always straight to Rohrmoos. There is a parking lot there.

Approach: (machine translated)
It is best to take bicycles so you can save about 30 minutes on the access as well as on the way back. At the exit of the parking lot, over the bridge on the left side, along the forest path (which follows the walk from the river) to the last waterfall. Leave the bikes there. Follow the path and take the first turn to the left, the forest path leads to the streambed (direction Schranbach alm). It is possible to get in about 100 meters further up (so you can walk through 1 more waterfall and 2-3 small pools). On foot via the Kaseregg chapel.

Tour: (machine translated)
6 rappels up to approx. 20 meters, quite slippery. Steps to downclimb, a few small slides and a jump possibility about 2 meters before the first rappel. Be sure to take enough equipment, there is no known repetition.

Return: (machine translated)
Same ascent
