Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Open, vertical ravine, which pours its waters into Pozo Negro, with which we can combine

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Almost all along the route

Access: (machine translated)
We arrived at Lanestosa by the N629, at pk 61.2 at a turn with some houses we have the detour to Calera del Prado. We continue to the village and park in the square or next to the church the return car in case you want to combine with Pozo negro.
The access car by the road to Aldeacueva almost 4kms to a crossroads behind a house that begins a forest. Here we take the track that goes to the right and is gaining height, soon another crossroads to the right and later another to the right put us in the valley of the ravine. As a viewpoint we will continue along the track that descends to the entrance to the stream.

Approach: (machine translated)
Ravines of the Calera river and its accesses
We go down to Pozo Negro and cross it to take a path next to a water conduction.
The water conduction crosses the ravine by a handrail and turns to the left to go up to the head of the ravine.

Tour: (machine translated)
Very vertical until you reach the confluence with Pozo Negro, downhill without rest.

Return: (machine translated)
We will cross the Pozo Negro riverbed and go up the hillside to the track

Coordinates:
Canyon Start 43.2222 -3.3592
