Summary: (machine translated)
Nice canyon without being spectacular with facilities a little precarious but in a wonderful environment. Caution with the spring flows and after heavy rains.
Attention, at the beginning of the access road to the ravine there is a sign indicating that access to the Arinyolo ravine is prohibited due to the risk of flash floods, as of 6/08/2022.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
In almost the entire route along the sides of the ravine we will be able to go down the ravine.

Access: (machine translated)
On the N260 between Pont de Suert and La Pobla de Segur, at the height of Senterada we turn off on the L503 to the Torre de Cabdella. We will continue along the same road until almost the same village of Cabdella, just before we find the power station on the right where we will park the car to return.
We will go back to Espuy, here we will see a bridge that crosses the river and a track to the left, we will follow it 6.8kms, until 1750m of altitude where there is a right fork. We park the access car

Approach: (machine translated)
From the fork there is a small path to the stream, you can't miss it.

Tour: (machine translated)
Quite a precarious descent, some installations are in poor condition and the ropes are overgrown.
Nice alpine descent

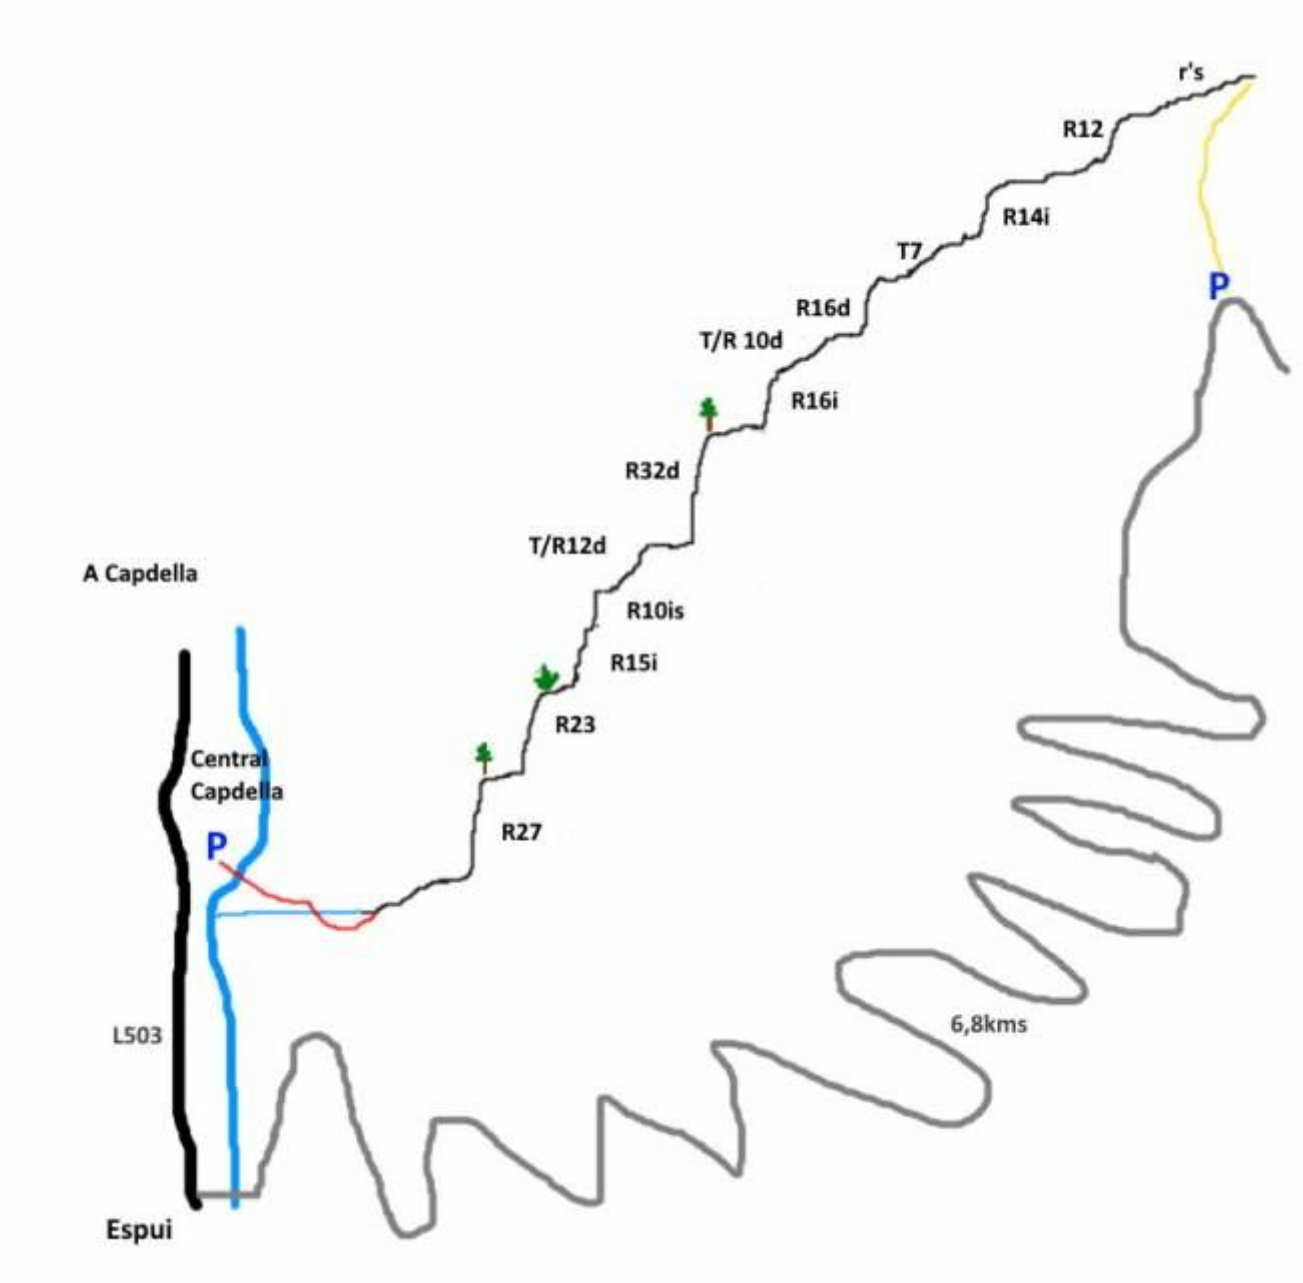

Return: (machine translated)
When we reach the power plant canalization, we will go out to the bridge and from there to the power plant.
