Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Collection canyon with only 4 rappels, enough vegetation and a somewhat long access. The surroundings of Tabarla can compensate for the trip.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Difficult due to steep terrain and undergrowth

Access: (machine translated)
We are located on the picturesque CV429 road between Yátova and La Portera. At p.k. 21,5 we have the detour to Tabarla, to the recreational area, by this track we will go down to the river, to the enabled area.

Approach: (machine translated)
Along the GR we will go up the slope towards the south, later it becomes a track (bad condition) and turns to the left towards the east. After a kilometer it turns south and almost reaches the top, there at the right turn we will leave the GR/track to go left following the ridge, seeing the dry riverbed on our right. We will go east at all times, when the ridge ends and begins to descend steeply we will follow it to the riverbed.

Tour: (machine translated)
Not very interesting, lots of undergrowth, 4 rappels and little else.

Return: (machine translated)
When we reach the Magro river we cross it to take the PR to the right. This trail takes us directly to the parking lot of the nature reserve.
