Summary: (machine translated)
Southernmost canyon in Corsica, friendly atmosphere, varied, suffers increasingly from a lack of water towards the summer.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
From Bonifacio 20 km on the N 196 towards Sartene, then turn right towards Poggiale (5 km), then turn left to the hamlet of San Gavino (160 m above sea level). Parking on the access road in front of the village.

Approach: (machine translated)
From the village road in a northwesterly direction up the trail to Bergerie Naseo. Always staying on the path (do not follow the red markings to the left!), go up until the path is level (440 m a.s.l.). You will find a small wall on the left, in front of which there is a cairn. Immediately after the wall on the left slightly up and later horizontally you meet the stream after a total of 1 hour and 20 minutes.

Tour: (machine translated)
Above the 40m drop, you can traverse to the tree-lined drop using a permanently installed handrail (2012); 2 x 20 m of rope are then completely sufficient here (but you need more rope for the 30 m rappel further up).

Return: (machine translated)
At around 170 m above sea level, the black water pipes run from the stream over a rock ledge on the left. Immediately before this, exit into the cirque on the left and also up to the edge; a path begins here that leads back to San Gavino.
Alternatively, you can descend in the stream to 110nm above sea level and then also take a path to the left and up to San Gavino.

Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Vivaggio Vu depuis le sentier de retour, ça coulait normal grace aux pluies de cet automne. L'eau ne semblait vraiment pas froide.Un arrêté municipal bien affiché 2 fois sur panneaux dans le village indique que la baignade est interdite... à fouiller... Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Vivaggio La nature reprend ses droits sur le chemin d’accès tout de même marqué régulièrement en bleu. L’eau commence à se faire rare. Belle descende qui manque à mon goût d’équipement. Belle c40 Chemin de retour version sanglier mais ça se fait assez bien sur les cartes. Sortir avant les indications dangers dans le canyon en RG.
