Dry ravine except after rains.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Possible along the route

Access: (machine translated)
On the CV20 at pk 21 we turn towards Argelita on the CV194.
From the village we continue along the CV194, we leave the Lucena turnoff (CV193) on the right and before reaching pk12 we have a place to leave the car on the right.
If we have access car we will return to the Lucena detour and take that road (CV193), after passing the Masía del Moro and Mas de Perxano approx pk13,5 we will have a track on the left that goes down to the Canaletas with the ravine on our left. We will take the car as far as we can.

Approach: (machine translated)
With access car, we will continue walking along the track down to the ravine, when the track ends we will follow a path that takes us down to the ravine.
If we have only one car from the parking lot we cross the river Villahermosa at the height of the source. On the opposite slope we will see a path that winds uphill, we follow it through some cuts with stunning views and will leave us on the access track.

Tour: (machine translated)
Dry canyon, long and without great difficulties except for the 25m rappel.

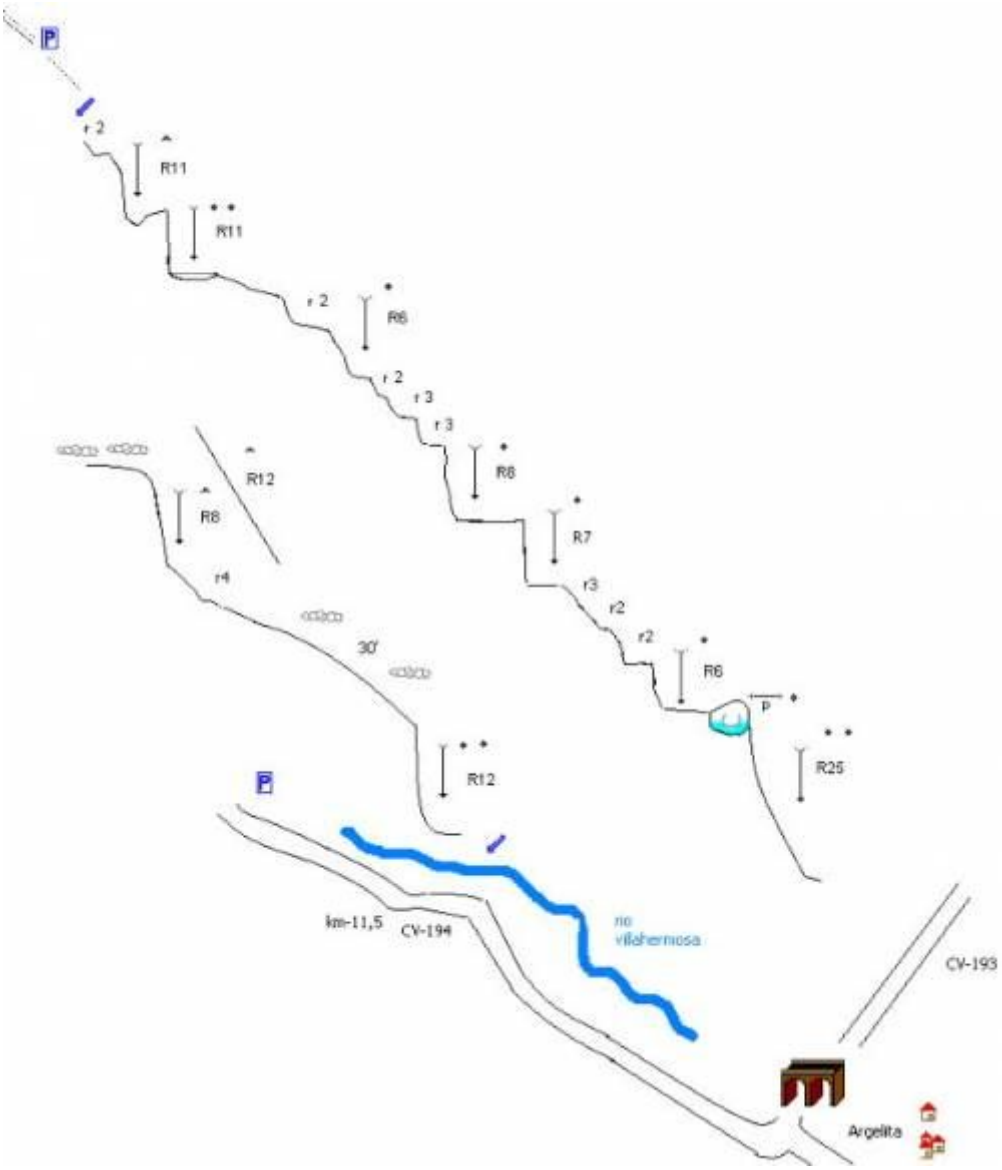

Return: (machine translated)
We reached the river, crossed it and went back to the place where we had parked
