Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Simple and fun canyon that can be used for initiation. The ideal is to do it after rains if it does not lose much interest. Indispensable combination of cars

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Possible but terrain is steep and overgrown with vegetation

Access: (machine translated)
On the N260 between Pont de Suert and La Pobla de Segur, near Senterada, at km 316.5 we have the detour to Reguard, here we leave the car to return. We are next to the exit bridge where we can evaluate the flow.
With the access car we go to Senterada and turn left to Naens/Cadolla/Pinyana/Burguet. A couple of kilometers later we turn left to Burguet. From here the road becomes a track which we follow until Cérvoles. We parked

Approach: (machine translated)
From Cérvoles we will go down to the riverbed as far as we can. There are some milestones but there is no marked path.

Tour: (machine translated)
Nice descent more like an aquapark than anything else. A multitude of small slopes and slides with a few rappels that if we catch the ravine with water make this descent one of the most fun in the area.

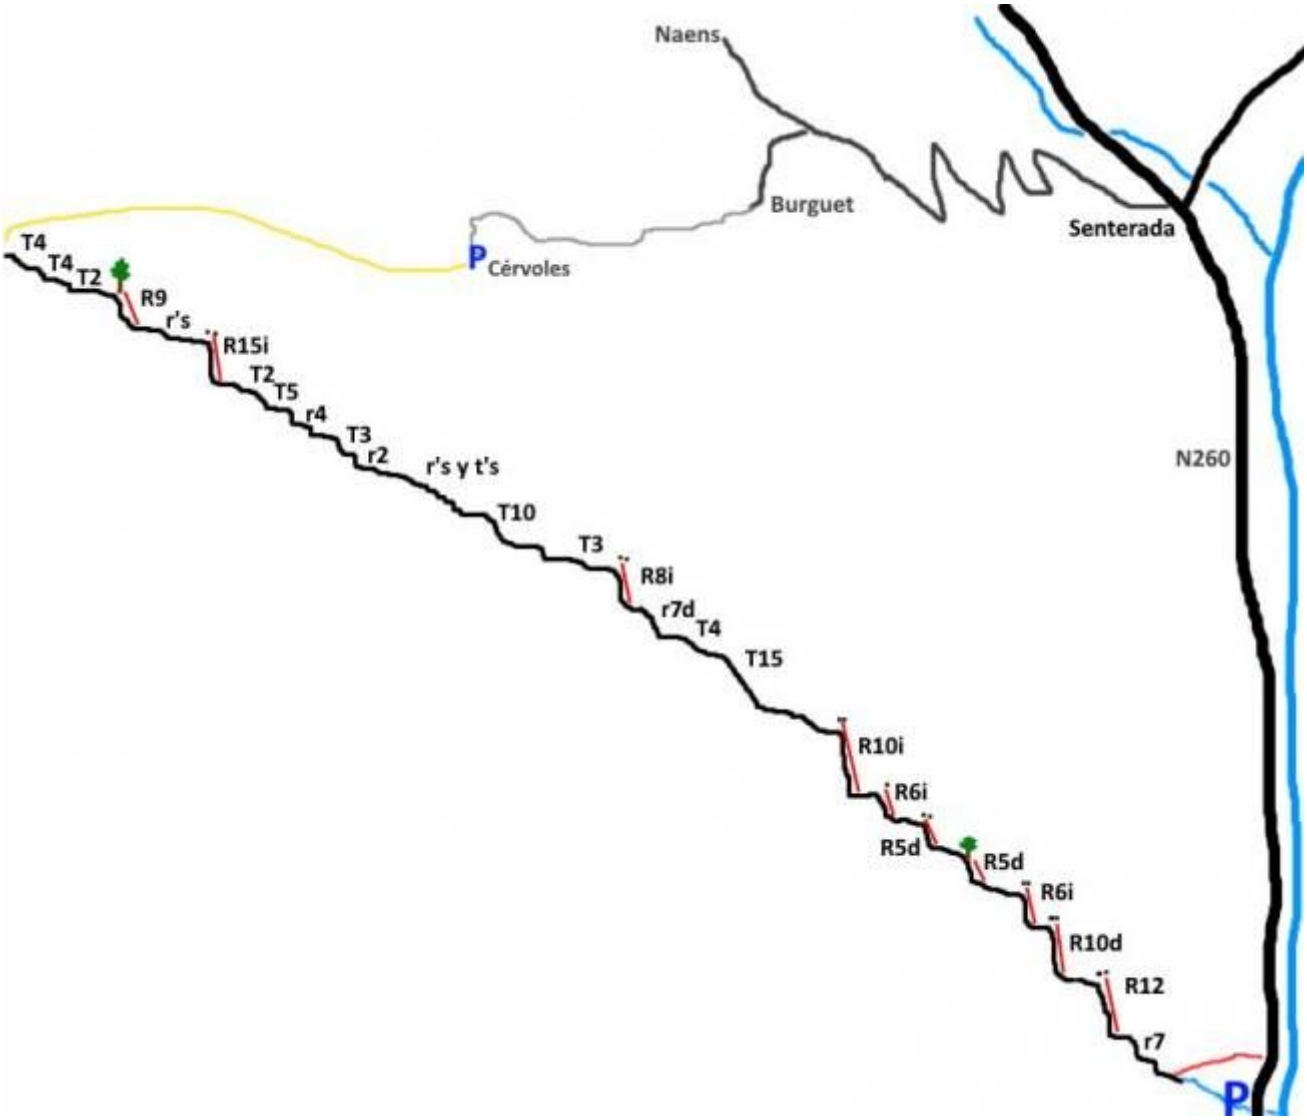

Return: (machine translated)
After the last rappel and a cliff there is a path to the left towards the bridge.
