Summary: (machine translated)
Aquatic ravine, almost river hiking, which begins at the river beach do Cortez and whose route will allow us to jump through the pools, throw us down slides, etc.. Ideal to go with the little ones.
Much better in late spring, early summer to have a good flow, in summer it drops a lot. Possibility of combining vehicles.

Hydrology:
Sí

Access: (machine translated)
Take the A25 to the border between Aveiro and Viseu. We will take the detour to Talhadas.
Here we turn left to Alfusqueiro on the N333, then we turn right to Alfusqueiro on the CM1502. On this road we will go to Cortez where we will turn off again at the sign to Alfusqueiro on the right. We will only have to go down to the bridge over the river. Just to the right is the parking area of the river beach, a place to leave the access car.
With the car of return we go back about 150m and a half asphalted track comes out parallel to the river, we will follow it about 2kms until a power station with waterfall where we can park.

Approach: (machine translated)
Behind the river beach dam

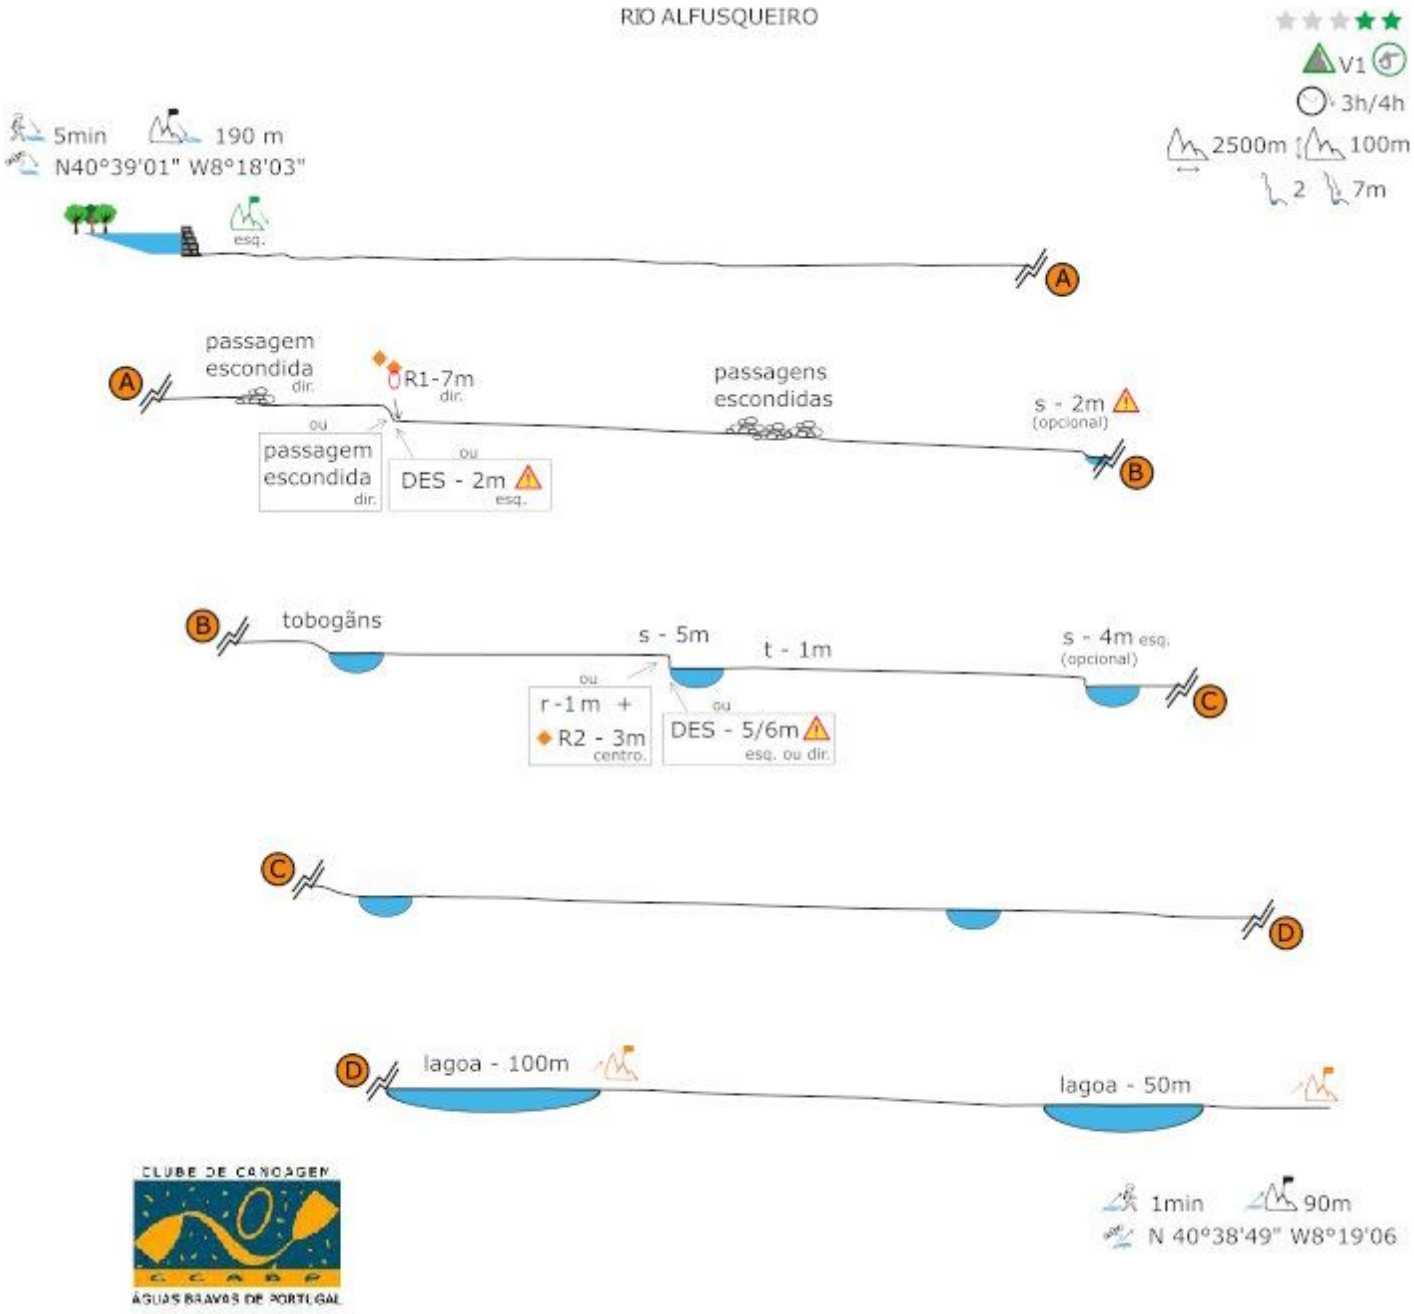

Tour: (machine translated)
Slides, slides, jumps, jumps and two rappels

Return: (machine translated)
When we get to where the waterfall of the hydroelectric plant pours, we go out to the right. If we have two vehicles the second one will be there. If not, we will have to take the track to the right and go up the river along the track to the road.
