Summary: (machine translated)
The name is to be confirmed. Vertical and dry canyon, with a 60m rappel overlooking the reservoir and with the same return as Bujete. You can quickly combine the two although it will be a good palicilla for its return.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Once in the vertical

Access: (machine translated)
We must be located in Cortes de Pallás, which we will reach by the CV428.
About 200m from the village there is a track on the left (Otonel sign) by which we will go about 2.5kms to the basin of the Bujete ravine, we will continue about 500m to a left curve where we have a track on our left. We get in and park

Approach: (machine translated)
The access is obvious although it is better not to go along the riverbed up to the sports area, it is very well dressed.

Tour:
Ver topo

Return: (machine translated)
Same return as Bujete, we will leave to the right by a small path towards the ruins of the works of the dam. When approaching the wall we will see the Ferrata by which we must climb. We will continue along the ridge and we will see a dirt road, at the crossroads we will go to the right until we reach our parking.
