Summary: (machine translated)
Beautiful ravine little frequented, mountainous environment, wooded, with a lot of undergrowth in some sections, very aesthetic and with a perfect R30.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Several, before the road, before the R30 on the left, ...

Access: (machine translated)
On the N260 between Pont de Suert and La Pobla de Segur, at the height of Senterada we turn off on the L503 to Torre de Cabdella.
We will arrive at the village of Molinos, we pass it and soon we have the detour to the left to Astell. We will follow the small road to the village of Astell where we park.

Approach: (machine translated)
From the road, to the left we would go to the head of Solà, we will go straight ahead along a path next to the stone wall, the path goes to a meadow through which we will go towards N, we will pass next to a vulture and soon we reach the trees, where we will go down towards the riverbed.

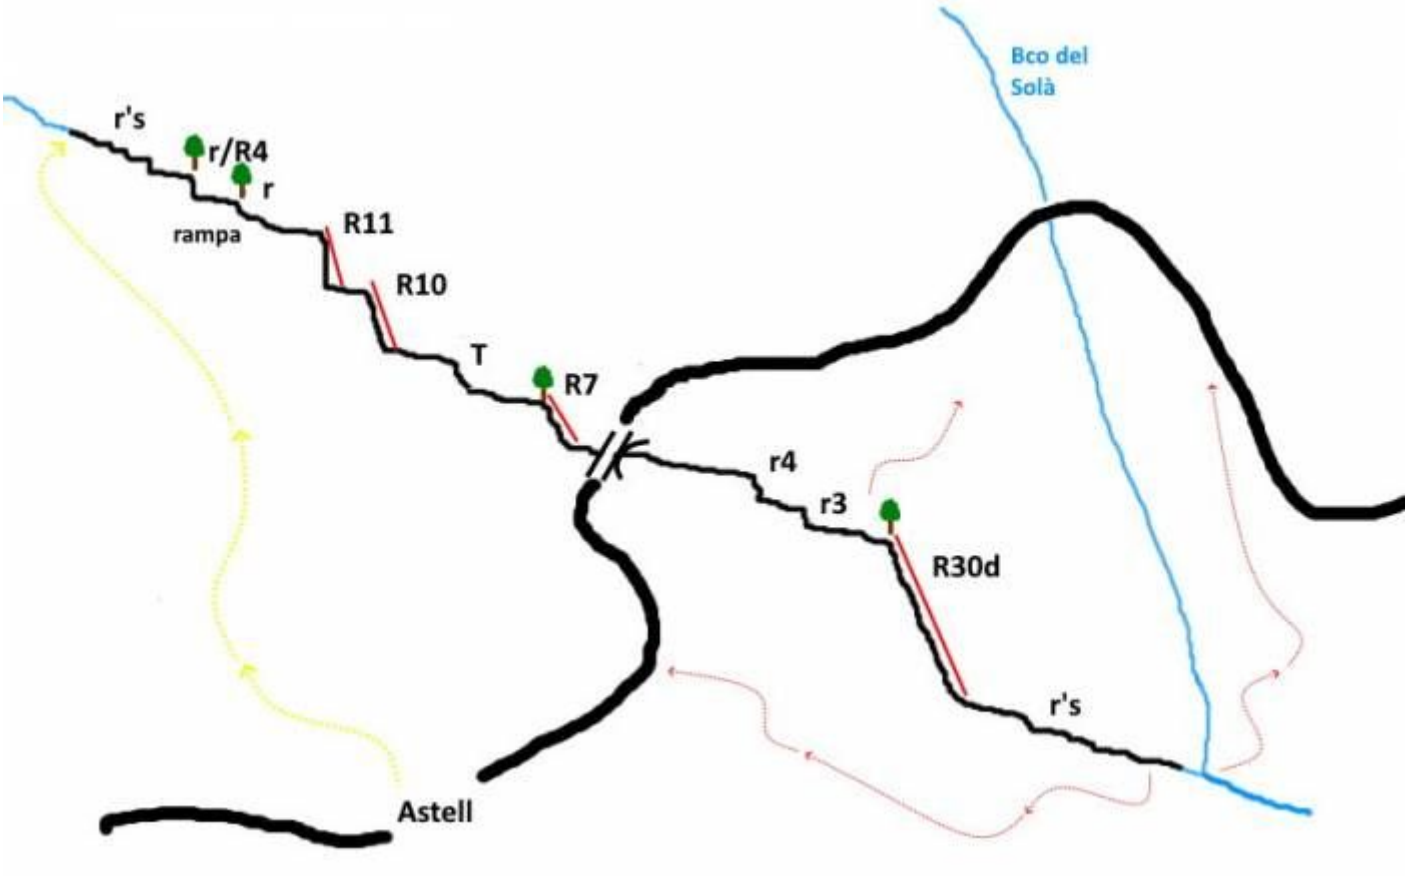

Tour: (machine translated)
An area of dexterity to reach the first rappels, short, dexterous, but given the slipperiness of the terrain, it is not superfluous to secure ourselves on a log. We will continue descending until we reach the first obligatory rappels, with facilities on the ground (about 10m each), after them a slide, some small skills and we reach the road with a rappel (possible escape). We will continue through a more dressed area and small projections until we reach the magnificent R30 (previously we have another possible escape to the left).

Return: (machine translated)
After the last few steps, we find the confluence with Solà, we can exit zigzagging to the left to go to find the road. Another option is to exit to the right towards some meadows and from here to the road.
