Summary: (machine translated)
Canyon in the park of Gorbea in which we will need two cars. With permanent water, it is a slippery descent but very nice, lush, full of tree trunks, ... a very different environment not suitable for novices. Its 35m rappel is a delight.
Regulated canyon, prior authorization is required.

Access: (machine translated)
Access map to Sintxita ravine
From Orozko (Zubiaur) take the BI3513 (Ibarra, Artea) to Gorbea Park. We continue until the detour to Urigoiti on the right, soon in the neighborhood of Usabel we see the cemented track that goes to the right towards the Gorbea Park. We continue a little more, before a sharp bend to the left there is a track on our right for which we return. Here we leave the second car
We return to the sign and track of Gorbea Park and climb about 2kms, after passing a hut on our left we will see two tracks, one on each side. We park, the one on the left is ours.

Approach: (machine translated)
Situation of Alarrieta, Sintxita and Sintxita Goikoa ravines
From the parking we leave by the track and soon we will see the entrance to the ravine.

Tour: (machine translated)
Two very different parts, the first with the rappels, very aesthetic and the second much more aquatic with rappels and slides.

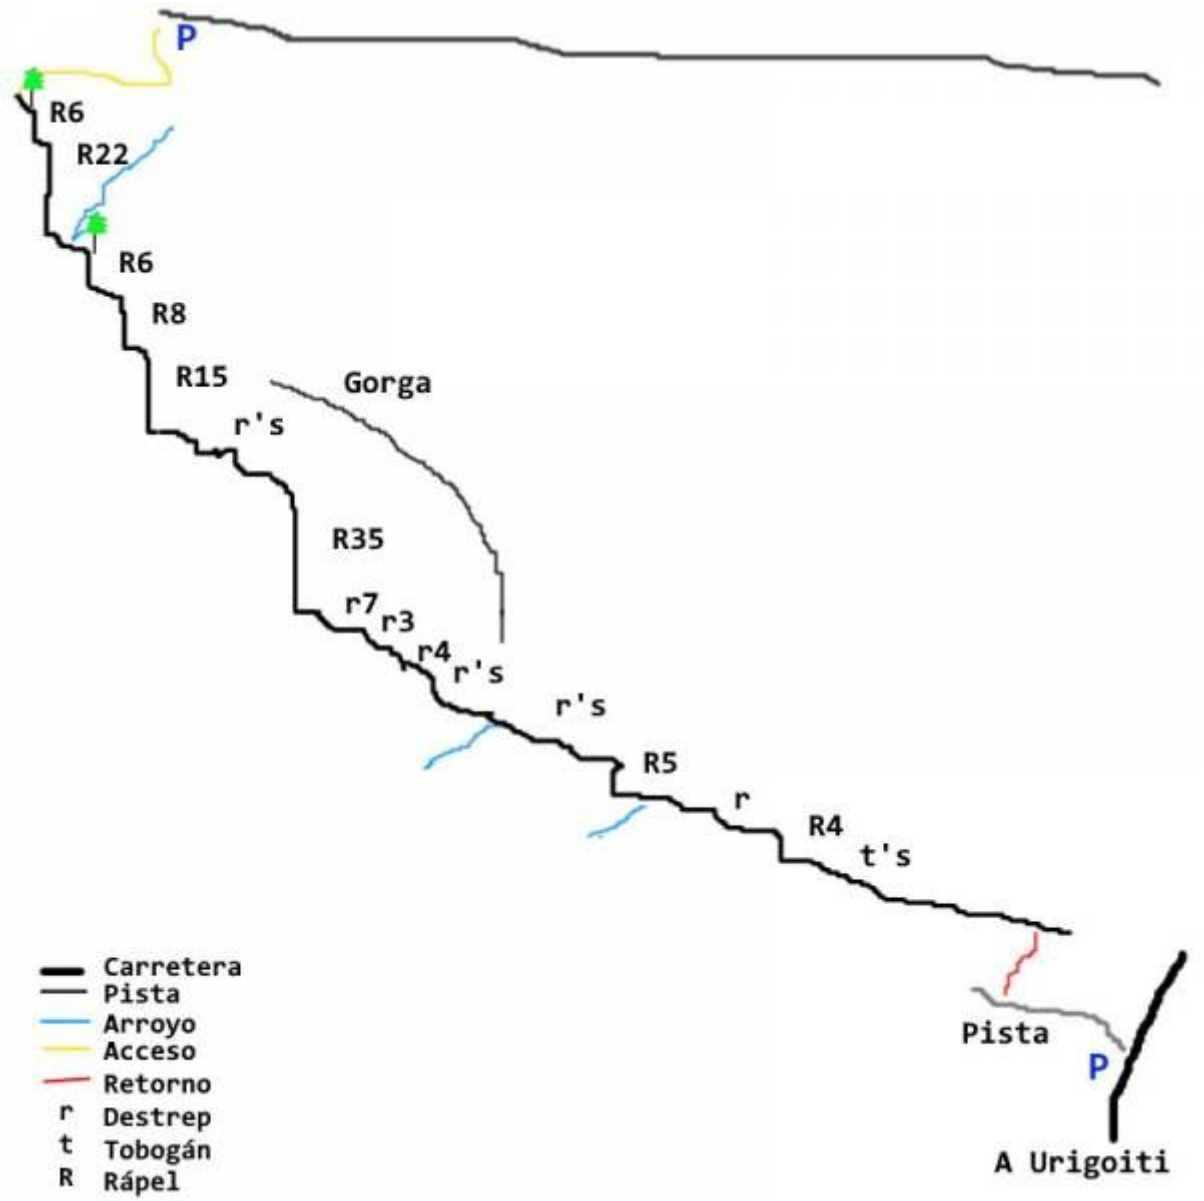

Return: (machine translated)
We will exit to the right onto a track that will lead us to the road.
