Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Alpine stream with 4 canyoned areas, the last two of which are the most spectacular with their waterfalls.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Throughout most of the route

Access: (machine translated)
You have to get to Gabas, at the foot of the Midi d'Ossau. From Pau by the N134 to Laruns and then by the D934 to Gabas. From Sallent de Gállego by the A136 we cross the Portalet and go down to Gabas.
Next to Gabas there is a road that goes up to Bioux Artigues, the D231. We will go up almost to the lake, just before the dam curves there is a parking lot on the right (in summer you have to get up early).

Approach: (machine translated)
From the parking lot, towards the Cabana de Bious and continue along the path that goes up the orographic left leaving the waterfalls to one side. When we pass the first section of hard ascent we will enter a bridge to cross to the orographic right (end of the third section and beginning of the fourth), path that brings us closer to the Cabane d'Aule. We will follow this path until we go up the slope in front and just here the path rejoins the stream, time to descend.

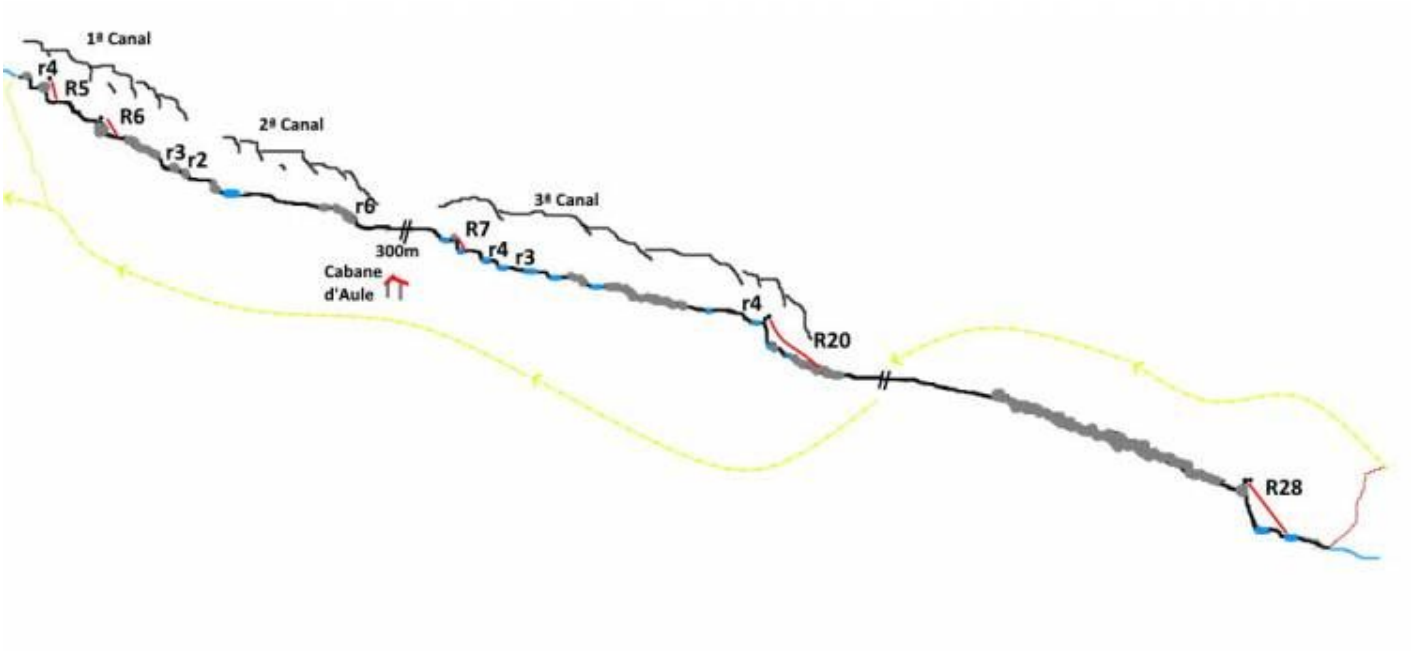

Tour: (machine translated)
3 canals and a final part with a beautiful waterfall, it is not a very sporty descent.

Return: (machine translated)
After the last waterfall, we turn left to take the access path.
