Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Nice canyon with good flow, although a lot of caution in spring with the thaws. 9 rappels of up to 30m, many of which can be climbed.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Possible because of the slope but with a lot of vegetation.

Access: (machine translated)
Take the N260 to Sort, once there we turn off on the C13 towards Llavorsi.
Just outside Sort, at the traffic circle, turn left to Llessui on the LV5223. We will leave the detour to Rialp on the right and Olp on the left.
When we reach the turn-off to Bernui and Sauri (left) we take it and drive to Sauri where we park right at the entrance.
If we have two cars, with the access car we will return to the road and go up to Llessui, we pass it in the direction of the old ski resort and after the second left turn we will see a sign indicating the path on the left to the bco. We can park here or continue to the parking lot of the ski resort and access from the bridge over the Pamano.

Approach: (machine translated)
We explain the different options:
With a car you have to find the path that goes up from Sauri to Llessui and then follow the road to the other two possible accesses. The climb will take us half an hour in which we cross the road.
From the first access we will follow the path for 10 minutes that takes us to the river.
From the parking lot of the station we access directly from the bridge.

Tour: (machine translated)
From the old station to the first access it is half an hour of projections. From here begin the rappels of up to 30m in a very grassy and wet area, which together with the cold water and the little sun that will give us can make us spend quite cold.
It is not a very slippery canyon and most of the rappels can be negotiated if there is not much flow.

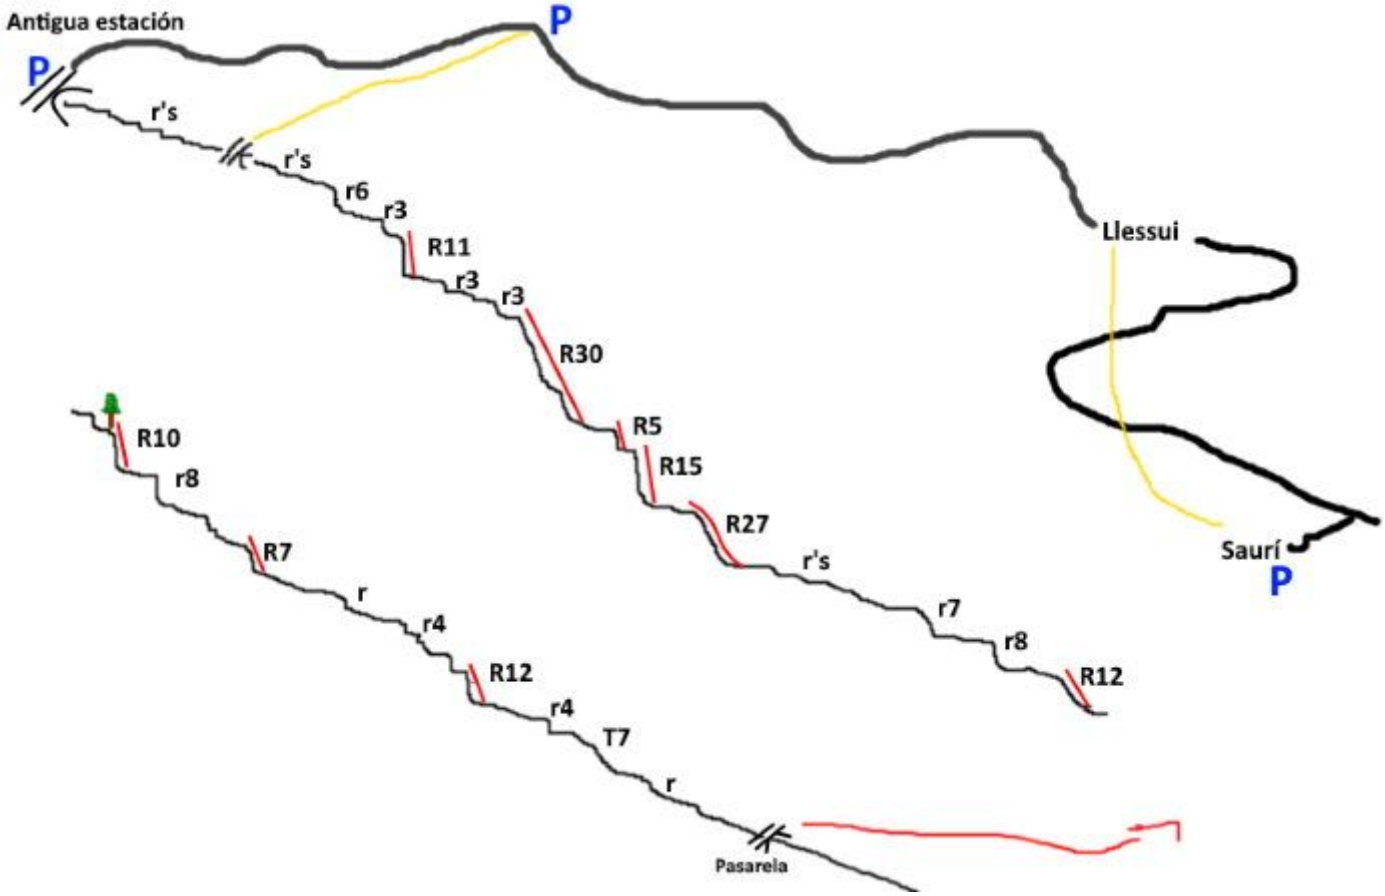

Return: (machine translated)
Before the road bridge there is a footbridge that leads to a path on the left to Sauri.
