Summary: (machine translated)
Nice canyon with a constant succession of rappels. It is advisable to combine cars. Caution with the flow of the Paiva river because the return is done by it.

In the first part on the left through the fields. Then on the right side.

Access: (machine translated)
By the N224 to Arouca and turn to Alvarenga or by the N225. In both cases by the road that joins them, the R326-1, we will go down to the bridge over the Paiva where we will leave the car to return.
We will return to Alvarenga and on the street that goes left at the soccer field we will park.

Approach: (machine translated)
This same street ends in a path that leads to the river.

Nice descent but be careful with the flow!

When we get to Paiva, we turn left without a path to the bridge, go through the small arch and go out to the road on the other side.
