A torrent with terrifying floods, but which dries out EXTREMELY quickly. It is very difficult to walk it with water. It is 100% karst-fed and comes out of a cave upstream. The water is then very cold. This cave probably serves as an "equalization shaft" for an as yet unknown underground circuit...

Fun fact: It is impossible to do both tours (Ruine and Malvaux) on the same day and in the water, hence the local saying: Si Ruine en eau, Raft dans Malvaux...
