Summary: (machine translated)
We are really talking about an equipped vertical, a vertiginous descent not suitable for people with vertigo. Exposed headers, without too many feet and for 2-3 people maximum.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Not in the vertical

Access: (machine translated)
We will have to be located in Atarfe, a few kilometers from Granada and take the N432 towards Pinos Puente. At the height of the cement plant we will turn right towards the recreational area Caballitos del Rey, next to the Raja Santa chasm. We will park here, overlooking the wall to descend.

Approach: (machine translated)
Along the track heading north we go around the wall and turn right to take the path that climbs to the summit, we will continue heading south until we find the first rappel.

Tour: (machine translated)
First 3 continuous rappels, with the colophon of the 50m of the last one, which can be split. Then we go through the ledge in search of the 4th rappel and down to the ground.

Return: (machine translated)
We will only have to walk to the track
