Summary: (machine translated)
Very beautiful and varied canyon; the upper part is mostly dry; in the lower part the canyon becomes more incised and watery; some downclimbing and jumping spots; two exits on the left side; SW exposure; scenic access above the old town of Kotor with a view of the bay; well-equipped inox stands; watch out for sand vipers/European horned vipers; tributary after first third; in high summer mostly dry.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
From Tivat, head south. At the large traffic circle (after the airport), turn left towards Kotor. In Kotor, go straight on at the small traffic circle until you reach the bridge. Immediately after the bridge, turn right into the parking lot (approx. €1/hour).

Approach: (machine translated)
(with 2nd car: 1h15min)
Once you have parked in the paid parking lot in front of the school sports field, follow the path past the school towards the already visible canyon. After crossing the first bridge, there is a hiking sign "Planinarska transverzala Orjen-Lovćen-Rumija". Past the pump house and stone bridge, follow the beautiful hiking trail in several serpentines up to a stone house at approx. 220 m. At the following serpentine bend with markings, you could choose the path visible on the ridge for the lower entry. To do this, leave the main path here on the left in the direction of the electricity pylons. If you want to enter further up, follow the main path further up. (A little tip: after approx. 400m, just before a rusty electricity pylon, there is a small fork with an H2O sign on the left-hand side of the path. Here you can get drinking water after approx. 20m in the small stone wall tunnel). After the last hairpin bends, you have a wonderful view of the Bay of Kotor and the surrounding mountains from the ridge. From here it becomes flatter. First follow the signs for "Krstac" and "Lovćen". At the next fork in the path, turn left through the forest to the wall from the KuK period and the entry point at the stream at approx. 580m.

Tour: (machine translated)
The Škurda has over 30 abseiling points, whereby the first third (approx. 1 hour) is mostly waterless. In this part there is also the highest abseil of 40m. At the beginning there are 3 beautiful abseils and a long downclimb. After a small cascade, the canyon becomes more incised and continuous. Here a tributary enters the canyon from the right, bringing most of the water. Several abseils (max. 35m) follow without much distance until you reach the beautiful, incised lower section of the gorge (be careful! after the 35m +10m abseil, there is an entry/exit point marked "EXIT" on the rock on the left). A removable rope traverse can be set up to the last abseiling point of approx. 20m. Then downclimb/descend the last few meters of the canyon to the exit at approx. 10m.

Return: (machine translated)
You leave the canyon on the right-hand side after about 10m and immediately after the pumping station you reach the road/paid parking lot.

Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Skurda Nous avons fait le canyon en entier. 1 h 40 d'entrée, 5 h de canyoning à deux. Tous les points d'ancrage sont bons, l'eau des vasques est claire. Magnifique canyon, avec de nombreux rappels courts, mais parfois magnifiques. Done from Njegusi Zipline to Kotor, quite a long way (6h in the canyon, plus 1h walk). The middle part carried fresh water, dry otherwise, but nice all the way. Lots of rappels, all low and simple (the first two are longer, up to 40m). Millions of desperate frogs, some water snakes and bathing choughs in the pools. Taxi, cable car and walk down was an acceptable solution for getting back to the start.

Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Skurda Did the canyon from the top 3h30. We walked up in 1h30. Very nice canyon. Waterlevel can be checked at the end, just climb to the last waterfall. (Quelle: https://www.descente-canyon.com/canyoning/canyon-debit/22191/observations.html)

We hiked the canyon from the very top, which is worthwhile if you are doing the Skurda for the first time. The hike up is also very beautiful, very hot in summer, so start early and take plenty of water with you. The beginning was dry, we needed about 30 minutes for the downclimb, but you have a beautiful view. After that, there was always little water flowing down to the bottom. The canyon becomes more and more beautiful and we liked it very much. You can check the water level at the exit of the canyon when you walk to the last pool/rappel (10 min.). (machine translated)

Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Skurda Approach via Kotor fortress wall (dont miss the gate Spiljarskia at 215m., connect with the little bar for coffee, grappa, goat cheese and/or hard boiled egg), start optional at 580m with clear running water in Spring, but all in all less water than last year. Free parking a bit further in the city, in low-season. 80% glue-in bolts. Watch out for non-certified quicklinks and ropes on the anchors and presence of vipers on the approach.
