Summary: (machine translated)
Access to the ravine of the Pequeno River through its beautiful tributary the Foixos. Simple, with spectacular passages and plenty of walking areas. Better in sunny days of spring or early summer to enjoy a good flow and the pleasant walk between difficulties.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
At the access bridge, right next to the confluence between Foixos and Pequeno

Access: (machine translated)
It is necessary to be located in the concello of Covelo.
By the A52 to take the N120 and from there by the PO-255, or by the EP-5101 to Covelo and from there the PO-261 to Maceira. In both options we approach until A Igrexa, we leave it behind heading north, next to the beach of Maceira we take the road to Fofe and A Graña. About 4kms later we reach the bridge over the Rio Pequeno and the village of Cascardoso. We get in and as soon as we can we turn left towards N to a track that goes to cross the river. We park here

Approach: (machine translated)
From the track leaves a path heading north by the orographic right of the river Pequeno, follow this path that is boxed until a mile and a half turns left and crosses the river over a small bridge to go to the tributary. We go up another 200m until we leave the obvious boxed area of the Foixos behind us and we enter the riverbed.

Tour:
Ver topo

Return: (machine translated)
When we get to the bridge of the track, we take the left exit, the car will be next to it.
