Short ravine in the incomparable valley of Baztan, therefore, good views are assured. The stream, in the rainy season, can get to load quite a lot but without problems, but in the waterfall of 30m we will take a good soak.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
If by the slopes, we could avoid the 3 waterfalls.

Access: (machine translated)
We must be located in the Baztan, on the N121B, between Elizondo and Urdax.
Just in the port of Otxondo we have the detour to the right to Gorramendi. We will go along this beautiful little road with views of the whole Baztan, enjoying its meadows, for 9kms until we reach a viewpoint with views and a place to park on the right, just below the repeater.

Approach: (machine translated)
We left a few meters ahead of the road to take a path to the right that leads to a borda, heading east. Without losing height until we reach this borda to go in NW direction to the next borda, from here we will go down in search of the stream that will already be evident its bed.

Tour: (machine translated)
A couple of beautiful waterfalls, a skill area and a dreamlike environment.

Return: (machine translated)
When you reach the confluence of streams, go up the one on the right and then climb the slope (south direction), until almost the edge of the mountain where you will take a track, follow it to the west until the parking lot.
