Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Simple but quite vertical and dry canyon of the Serra de Bernia. With the same approach as Fondo and Paret it is very easy to combine it with the latter. Nice succession of rappels

Hydrology:
No

Access: (machine translated)
Access Bcos Serra de Bernia
From Altea la Vella towards Callosa d'Ensarrià by the CV755.
Location Bcos Serra de Bernia
At the height of the pk 20 we have the detour to the right to the urbanizations Alhama, Alhama Springs, etc.. We will go through here to go to Margarida street, we follow it until the end which we will take to the left, along Rosella street, and after the first curve (left) we will have a street cut to the right, Colina street. Here we will go until it ends and becomes a track, we can go up the track another 200m to a small hill next to the tank and park.

Approach: (machine translated)
Approximations Bcos Llosar, Fondo, Revoltes and Paret
From the reservoir there is a winding path that goes up the mountainside, it is the PR CV7 or Senda les Revoltes, we go up to 400m where we will see some wild olive trees on the left and a fita/mojón, without losing height we will go to the riverbed.

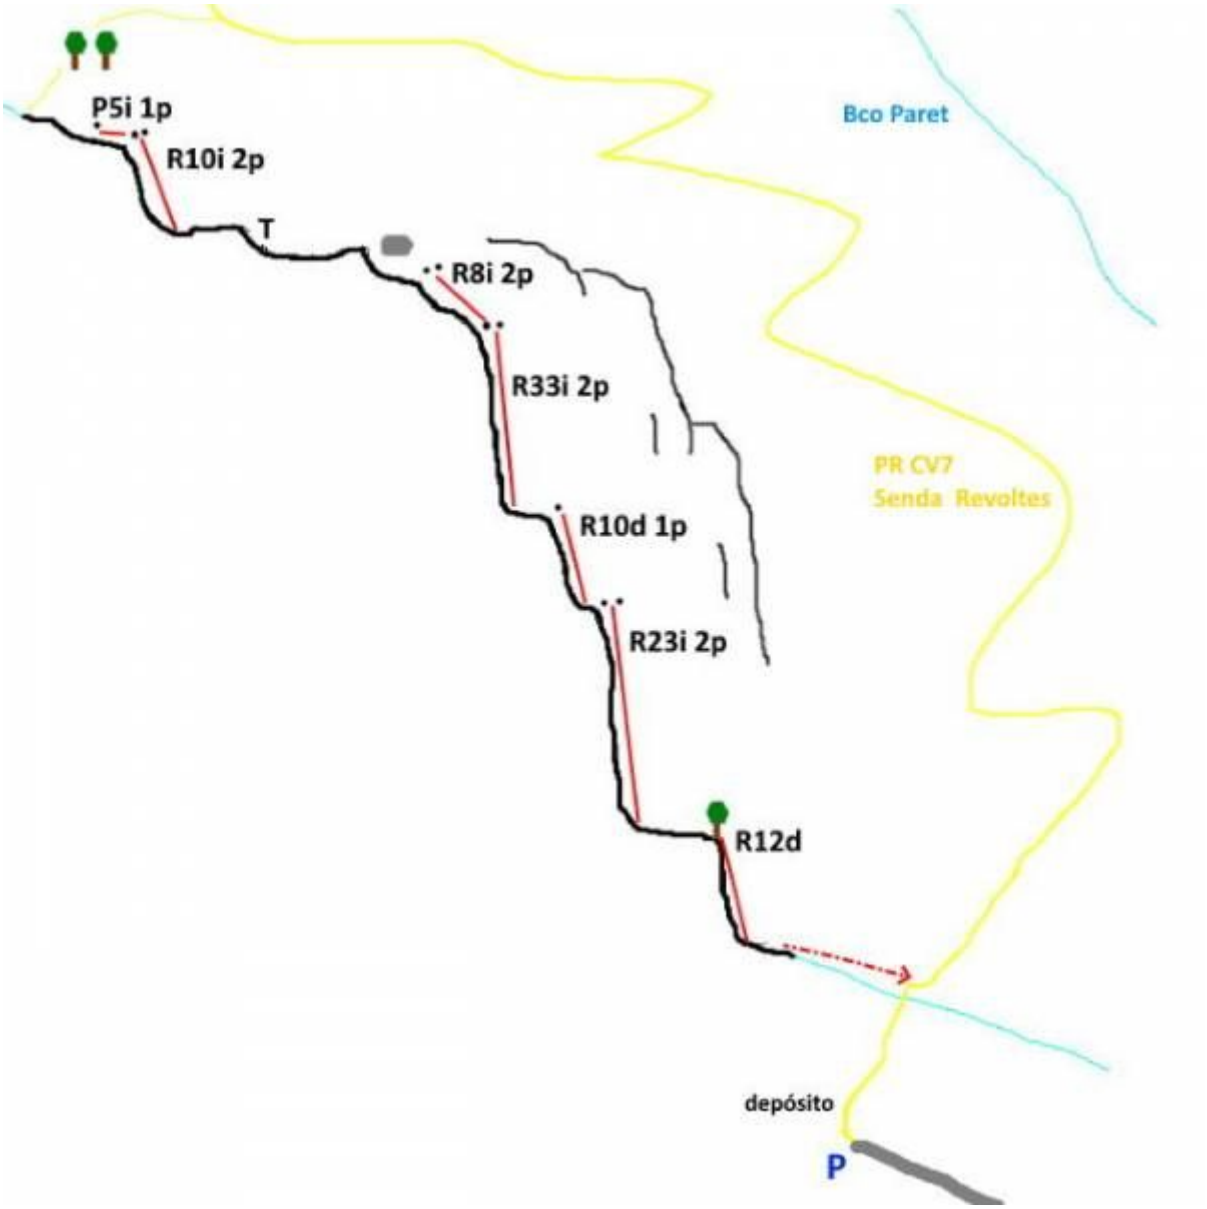

Tour: (machine translated)
Beautiful succession of rappels without great difficulty except for its length of up to 33m. It does not have complicated installations or overhangs in which a priori we can have difficulties.

Return: (machine translated)
After the last rappel we will follow the riverbed until we cross the upstream PR.
