Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Open canyon, with permanent flow and very slippery, without great difficulties except for the two long rappels.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
At almost any time

Access: (machine translated)
From Muskiz towards the south on the BI2701 to Santelices, we cross it and take a detour to the left "La Arboleda/Borja/El Campo". We go up this road, leave a detour to the left and continue until we find the detour to the neighborhood of Las Cortes. We arrive at the neighborhood and leave the car to return.
We return to the road to La Arboleda and after about 2kms we find a clearing and a detour to the right. We can park here or take the track as far as we can.

Approach: (machine translated)
We continue along the track until we pass under the Pico de la Ventana and in a sharp bend to the left comes out on the right a mining path that passes under the cliffs and enters the river. If we see this access complicated we can try to follow the track to the source of the river and go down it.

Tour: (machine translated)
Gorge with lots of vegetation in which we can escape almost anywhere, except in the waterfalls that is a little boxed in

Return: (machine translated)
At the dam we take the forest trail to the right and it takes us directly to Las Cortes.
