Summary:
Kremastos is a must-do highlight canyon of Samothraki. A vertical multi-stage abseil down a waterfall directly into the sea, with a boat-ride there and back. To tackle this route you need to be trained and have a good knowledge of the techniques to be used on big high verticals. The topo may not be accurate. The best advice is to have a 60m or longer rope per person, and work it out as you go. It is advantageous to have a phone that can make phone calls from Turkey to Greece (see "Return" below).

Hydrology:

Access:
First organise the boat: contact Nicholas +30 698 4508105 (English, no WhatsApp known) to check that he is running the boat. Arrange departure from the beach, and an approximate pickup time.
Drive the car to Pachía Ammos beach. Park at the western end at Nicholas's beach place. Proceed in Nicholas's boat to the drop-off point. Nicholas will show you where to climb up from the drop-off.

Approach:
Follow the GPX from Ropewiki https://ropewiki.com/Kremastos to the canyon.

Tour:
Follow the topo. Some parts of the canyon have bolts both sides. Note that at times the topo is hard to follow.

Return:
Just before the last abseil into the sea there is a bolt traverse canyon right, which may have a handline rigged. Climb the traverse and up a bit to get phone signal. Turkey may have better signal. Call Nicholas, agree a pickup time. Time the last abseil so most of the party are down just before Nicholas arrives. There is a ledge to wait on about 2-3m above the sea. When Nicholas arrives, go to the left of the ledge, jump in and swim to the boat.

Equipment ok. Approach in 1h30 with boat drop off from Agelada beach. Nikolas +306984508105. We got a bit lost on the way, about 100m from the canyon, the kerns had disappeared and looking at the map on Avenza maps, we were 50m too low... Strange... Kerns and blue dots found again later, maybe we followed the way back from the canyon? Otherwise magnificent canyon, with a splendid view. Be careful in the 50-50 wall (before the final relay and after the big wall), the second relay is on the left bank.... (machine translated)

Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Kremastos Ammos à Vatos et fin du canyon à Ammos en bateau , 150 euros avec le bateau de Nikolas gérant du bar de la plage d'Ammos, du coup comme on était deux ça fait cher. Approche en 1h20 de Vatos , suivre les cairns .Canyon en 1h40 , c'est beau très beau même majestueux .Pour la grande cascade : deux relais au départ RD ou RG puis 10 m plus bas 2 relais RD préférer le plus bas en bord de lèvre . Puis bon relais chaîné 15 m plus bas toujours en RD . De là on a tiré jusqu'au replat . (fractio encore possible sur très bon relais inox environ 30 m plus bas non utilisé). Puis cascade suivante avec relais en RG environ 40m puis relais RG très excentré pour environ 60m jusqu'aux MC de l'échappatoire et dernier rappel jusqu'à la mer. C'est très classe (Quelle: https://www.descente-canyon.com/canyoning/canyon-debit/21599/observations.html)

Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Kremastos Pour l'accès : après avoir débarqué sur la plage de Vatos , la longer coté est presque juste au bout , puis prendre un sentier qui monte . Suivre les points rouges et les cairns , on traverse 2 ou 3 ruisseaux qui coulent un peu .Arrivé à un petit col , on aperçoit à droite une petite arche naturelle . Ne pas descendre dans le vallon à droite (échappatoire de retour si pas de bateau !), mais continuer de monter à gauche (cairns , chemin de muletier) . On arrive peu après dans le canyon.
