Summary: (machine translated) Simple initiation canyon with water all year round. At the beginning it is only a trickle and then it picks up a little more from a spring. Caution because it is quite slippery.
Hydrology: (machine translated) Throughout the canyon
Access: (machine translated) We must reach Aretxabaleta by the AP1 or GI627. In the village we take the detour to the Urkulu reservoir on the GI3131. Pass the district of Goroeta and continue to the Urkullu stream (sharp bend to the left). On the right there is a track next to the stream, park here. Attention: 1 Km before arriving at the parking there is a sign that prohibits the circulation of vehicles without authorization.
Approach: (machine translated) We go up the track to the headwaters, where we cross the stream again.
Tour: (machine translated) Simple canyon of initiation with continuous escapes and generally with low flow.
Return: (machine translated) You leave the track where you leave the car, at the height of some farmhouses.
