Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
It is a descent with 5 rappels of which the first one is very aerial and with beautiful views. Fourth abseil very boxed, it seems that you go down to the bowels of the earth. Very amusing for a morning or afternoon. Incredibly beautiful.
Prohibition of its descent from January to June for nesting.

Hydrology:
– TODO –

Access: (machine translated)
We must get to Chiva. Once there we continue along the CV379 a couple of kilometers to the detour (left) of Fuentes Umbría-Enebro. We will take the next detour to the left and then continue along the track towards the mountains of Peñas Albas. When you reach the ravine there is a quarry on the right, here we can leave the car back. If we go with two cars we continue along the track until a curve to the left at the top of the ravine where there is a ruined house.

Approach: (machine translated)
With a car we must take the junk and follow the track to the top of the ravine. There we would leave the second car, there is a path that leads us down to the dry riverbed.

Tour: (machine translated)
Dry descent except after heavy rains. It has a marmite that can be avoided and a lot of brambles.

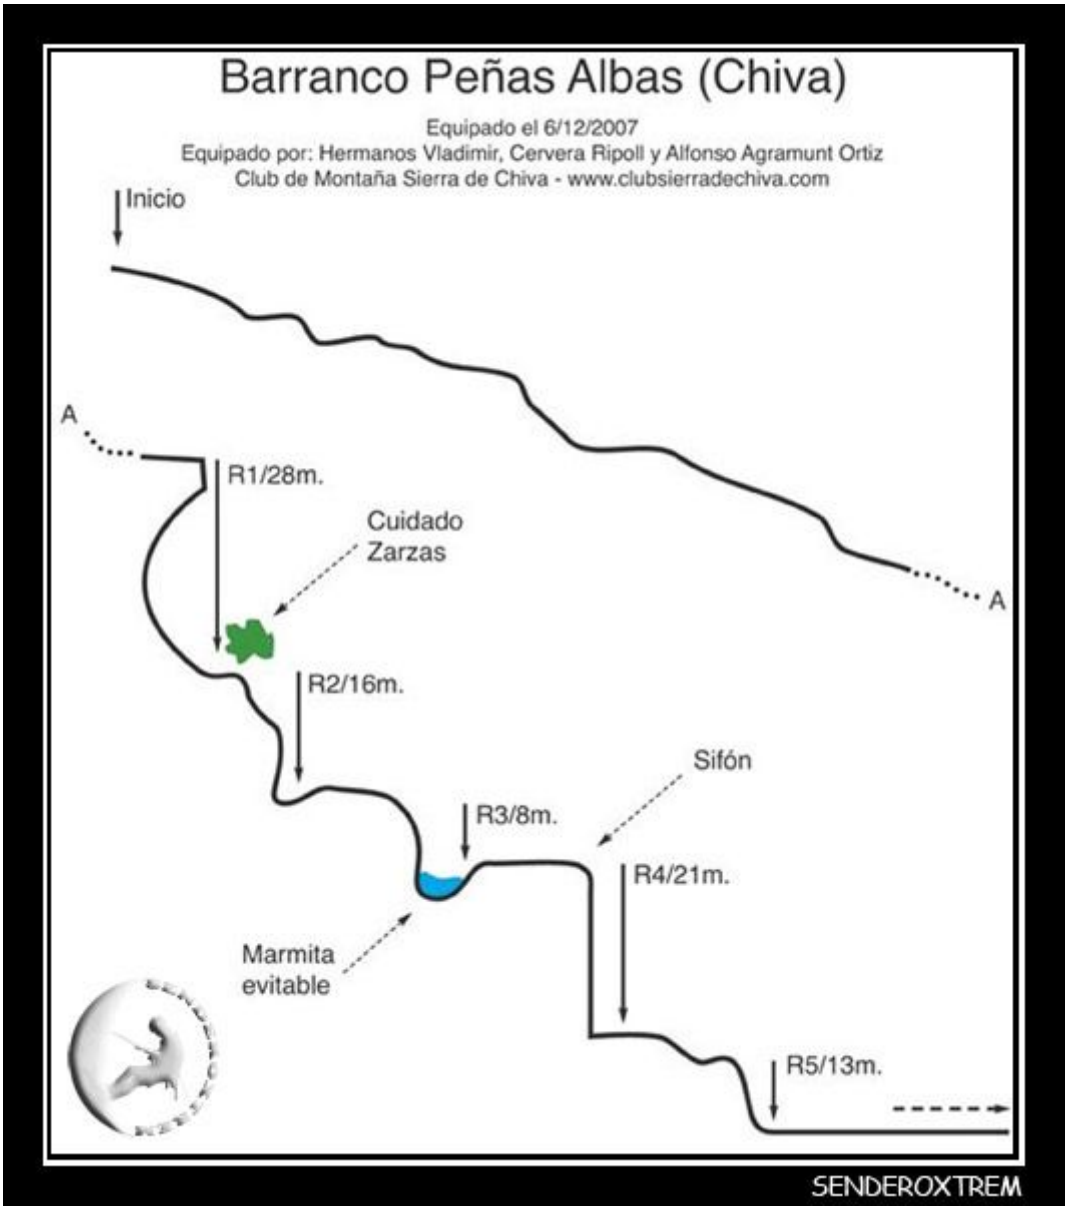

Return: (machine translated)
We follow the riverbed to the quarry
