Summary: (machine translated)
Also known by its toponymy Rego do Aceval, it is an initiation canyon, very used by companies in the area. Short approach, comfortable return (immediate with two cars). Much better after rains so that it has a good flow.

Hydrology:
Sí

Access: (machine translated)
By the A52 to A Cañiza, here we take the PO-5002 that goes down parallel to the Deva. Here we will go 10km there is a track on the right (where we will make the access) and a little further on there is another one on the left. Here we can leave the access car. If we continue 800m more we arrive at a left curve, with a bridge over the stream, where we can leave the car to return.

Approach: (machine translated)
Along the indicated track we walk about 600m to a right curve, soon we have the creek on our left and we get into it.

Tour:
Ver topo

Return: (machine translated)
When we get to the bridge we go out to the road, if we have two vehicles, we will have left one of them here. If not, turn left and in 700m you will reach the parking lot.
