Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Simple canyon that is really the end of Pozo Negro. With water all year round it is ideal for beginners, it has only one jump, a slide and two rappels. Comfortable approach and returns and a very pleasant environment.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
To the right towards the road uphill

Access: (machine translated)
Location of Calera del Prado
We arrived at Lanestosa by the N629, in the pk 61.2 in a turn with some houses we have the detour to Calera del Prado. We continue to the village and park in the square or next to the church.

Approach: (machine translated)
Calera river ravines and their accesses

Next to the church there is a path to the left that goes up the slope and turns to the right to head towards the head of the ravine. We follow the track up to a hut and from here it becomes a path. After 400m it turns left and heads towards the stream over some waterfalls. This is the moment to enter the riverbed

Tour: (machine translated)
Very short, we have a first jump/rapel of about 3 meters, then a slide of 5-6 meters and finally the two rappels. The biggest of 12-13m.

Return: (machine translated)
We can continue along the creek but it is quite slippery or exit to the right in search of the path uphill.
