Summary: (machine translated)
Alpine rappel canyon

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
Coming from Chur, we turn right at the end of the highway onto the B19 and drive via Flims, Laax, Ilanz in the direction of Disentis/Muster. 6.3 km after Ilanz we turn right off the B19 and drive up to Waltensburg/Vuorz.\n\nHere we buy a "Pickerl" for the toll road up to Val Ladral at the town hall. As the town hall only has very limited opening hours, contact them as early as possible (email: kontakt@walternsburg-vuorz.ch or phone: +41(0)819362000). Costs CHF 25 (2013) or CHF 200 fine. Via Andiast - turn left at the fire station - we now head up into Val Ladral. We park our car at the exit of the slope (1600m altitude).\n\nAlternatively, access by bike is also possible (http://www.laval.ch/files/Downloads/Mountainbikekarte.pdf).

Approach: (machine translated)
We climb up the orographic right-hand slope without a path until we reach a path coming up from the left at an altitude of around 1900m. We cross "our" stream at an altitude of around 2000m by following it uphill to the right. Now follow the stream uphill without a path to the entry point at 2040m.

Tour: (machine translated)
A total of about 20 rappels, whereby the lower, more indented part seems more interesting.

Return: (machine translated)
Where the streambed widens, turn right at a suitable point and cross the meadow to the car.

Actually, only the part above the bridge from the approach and the abseils afterwards are worthwhile. Much seems to have collapsed and it is also not really beautiful. (machine translated)
