Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Of great effort for its hard and demanding access in its succession of waterfalls/cliffs, it is of great beauty for being quite open and with an impressive perspective of the valley. Long waterfalls of sparkling water and moss-covered rocks.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Yes, after the 35

Access: (machine translated)
From Ainsa on the N260 we turn towards France on the A138 until we reach Bielsa. Here we turn left towards the Pineta valley and the Parador. Halfway, after the detour to Espierba (right) we will find the Pineta campsite on the left, shortly before we have a forested track on the left that bordering the campsite leads us to an esplanade where we will leave the car.

Approach: (machine translated)
We cross the Cinca by a footbridge/bridge and we enter the forest following milestones. After an hour we will arrive at the cirque right next to the Fuenblanca spring.
NOTE: Never go too far from the ravine and if 5min pass without seeing milestones... half a turn!

Tour: (machine translated)
Very intense descent, with no rest, good rappels, long descents and a lot of slopes to descend. Some people recommend not getting up early in the morning so that the sun comes in and you can enjoy the beauty of the environment (also to warm up).

Return: (machine translated)
We follow the course of the water up to almost the bridge, at which point we return to the access road.
