Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Short canyon, very attractive and one of the classics of the area. Very entertaining and regulated by a small dam above the ravine.
Caution! Take a look at the dam before anything else in case they open the floodgates.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Yes in open areas

Access: (machine translated)
On the road up to the port of San Isidro AS253 / AS112.
Past the pk 35 we will have the hydroelectric plant on our right and soon a very sharp left curve, before it there is room to park on the right, just in front of the waterfalls.
We will continue a couple of kilometers with the access car, we will be above the waterfall and we will see an esplanade on the right just before a left curve where we can park.

Approach: (machine translated)
With one car we must walk up to the access.
With two cars it is immediate, by the path that goes down to the small bridge.

Tour: (machine translated)
The first part has the highest waterfalls, 24m, a small open section and the 32m. This leaves us in an area of ledges that we can rappel from trees to enter a small chaos. After this, the river becomes boxed in for 4 more rappels before opening up in the chaos zone.

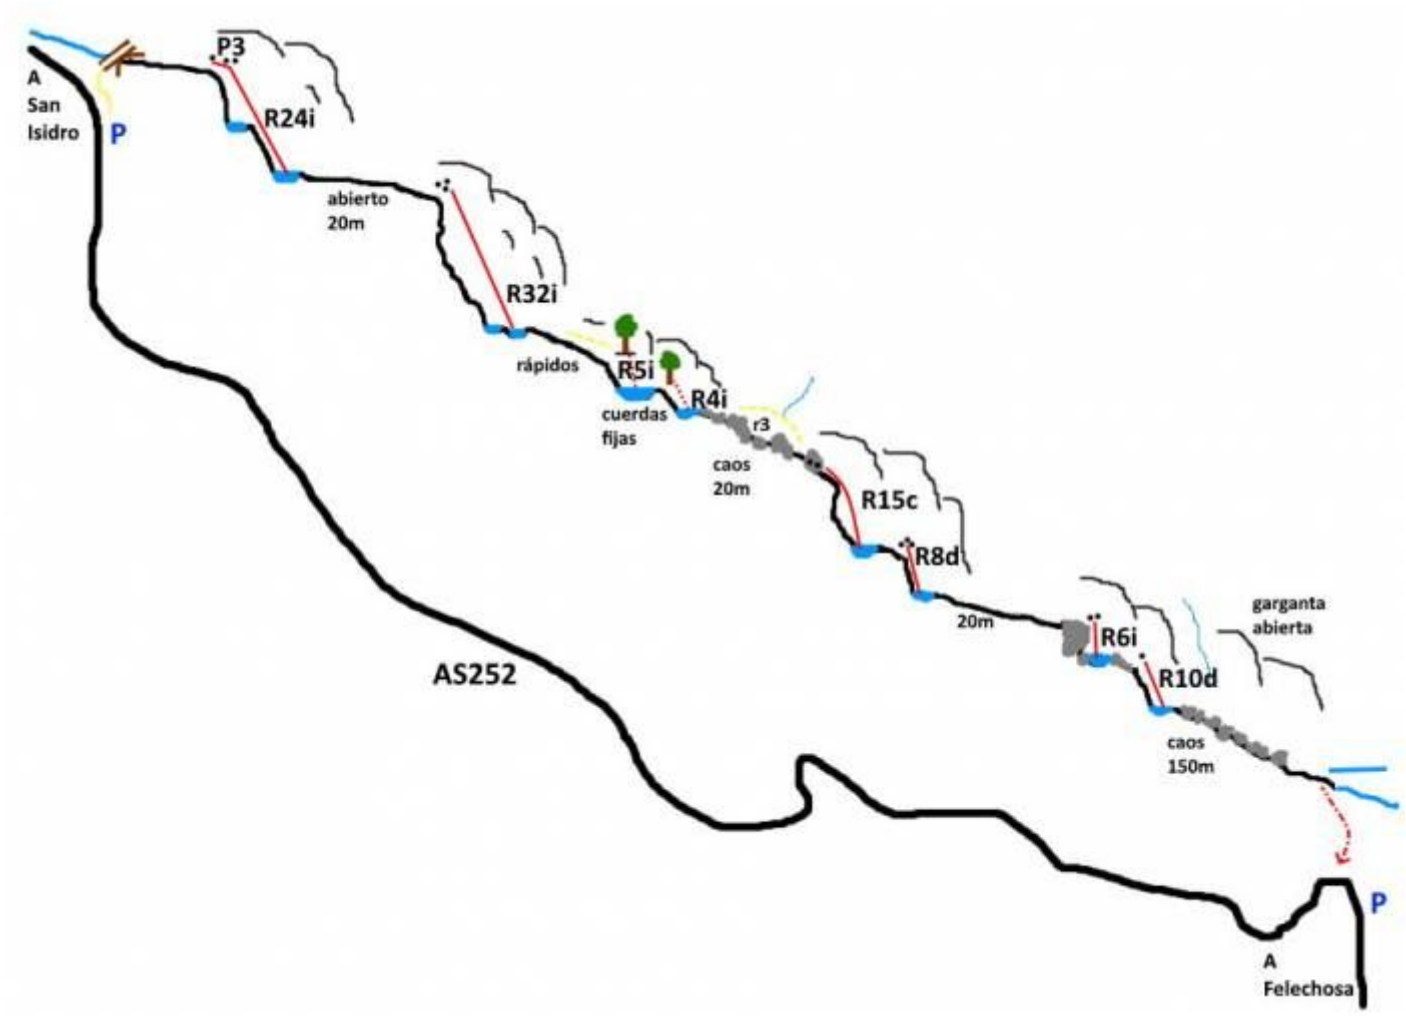

Return: (machine translated)
When the gorge opens up we will see an irrigation ditch of Molino through which we will go almost to the car.

Coordinates:
Canyon Start 43.0750 -5.4319
