Summary: (machine translated)
Nice short cave/gully between the Toyu sinkhole and the Rozada cave.
Descent to be done outside the rainy season as the system is flooded.
Permission may be required: https://www.cuevasysimas.es/cave.php?id=3597

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Inside the cave no

Access: (machine translated)
We are in Herrerías on the CA181, at km 10 we have the detour to the CA856 to Sobrelapeña at the height of Puente del Arrudo.
We cross the bridge over the river Nansa and turn left to Sobrelapeña, almost 5kms later, on this beautiful road surrounded by green meadows, in a gentle turn to the left, we have a track on the right and a place to park a few meters later.

Approach: (machine translated)
We take the aforementioned track, leave a warehouse on the left and 400m later we reach a small forest, we will see a path somewhat lost to our left that runs parallel to the Latarmá stream.

Tour: (machine translated)
See topographical description. In case of doubt, always keep heading northeast.

Return: (machine translated)
Leaving the cave we have a path on the left that leaves us on the same access track.
