Specialities:

Gear:
Ropes: 1x30m

Summary: (machine translated)
Alpine hiking canyon with a 15m abseil point and several obligatory slides and jumps (max. 4m)
Recommended as a beginner's canyon or half-day tour, but the belays are very poor.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
Drive from Kranskja Gora in the direction of the Vrsic mountain pass. Park immediately after the road crosses the Pisnica (dam).

Approach: (machine translated)
Cross the dam and behind it cross the mostly dry streambed via a concrete ford.
At the fork, follow the crossing tracks into the gravel bed of the Mala Pisnica. In the gravel bed, follow the path uphill for about 1.2 km until you can climb up into the mountain pines at a painted-over color point on the right.
Follow the well-trodden path over sandy ridges into the forest above where you meet another very good path.
A little later, you will also meet the old path that used to cross the Schrofenflanke, but is now largely derelict.
From here, the trail descends horizontally to slightly downhill through beautiful high forest. At a wide, gravelly streambed, you descend about 20 m into the main gorge.

Tour: (machine translated)
After a short hiking section with small slides, a first low gorge follows with 3 slides up to four meters - check beforehand from the right canyon rim whether all pools are deep enough. After a short hike, the only rappel in the gorge follows - 15m, anchors on the right (the only fixed belays in the gorge). After another hiking section in the sunny Schrofenschlucht gorge, it gets tight at 100m, two 4m jumps over clamping blocks await in this part. The canyon opens up again before a final low gorge follows after a short section of hiking (several small slides and jumps). Behind this gorge you will usually meet bathers, as this part is accessible from below.

Return: (machine translated)
Walk back to the parking lot through the wide gravel bed.
