Summary: (machine translated)
Canyon in the Calera area with long rappels and not too much water. It is better to do it after rains, in summer it can dry out. See

Hydrology: (machine translated)
It is quite open, you can go out almost anywhere.

Access: (machine translated)
We arrive at Lanestosa on the N629, at pk 61.2 at a turn with some houses we have the detour to Calera del Prado. We continue to the village and continue to the neighborhood of El Prado. We park at the hermitage.
If we have two cars, we drive up the N629 to the Puerto de los Tornos.

Approach: (machine translated)
With a car we take the track that goes up to the headwaters of the Calera river. When we reach the end of the ravine we will have to go up through the meadows towards the headwaters.
If we have the access car in the port of Tornos, we take the path that leads us up the hill to the top and enter from the top.

Tour: (machine translated)
Quite vertical canyon. Better after rains to ensure a good flow. Arriving at the junction with the track we can leave and get to the car or go down to the Calera ravine and finish that part of the ravine.

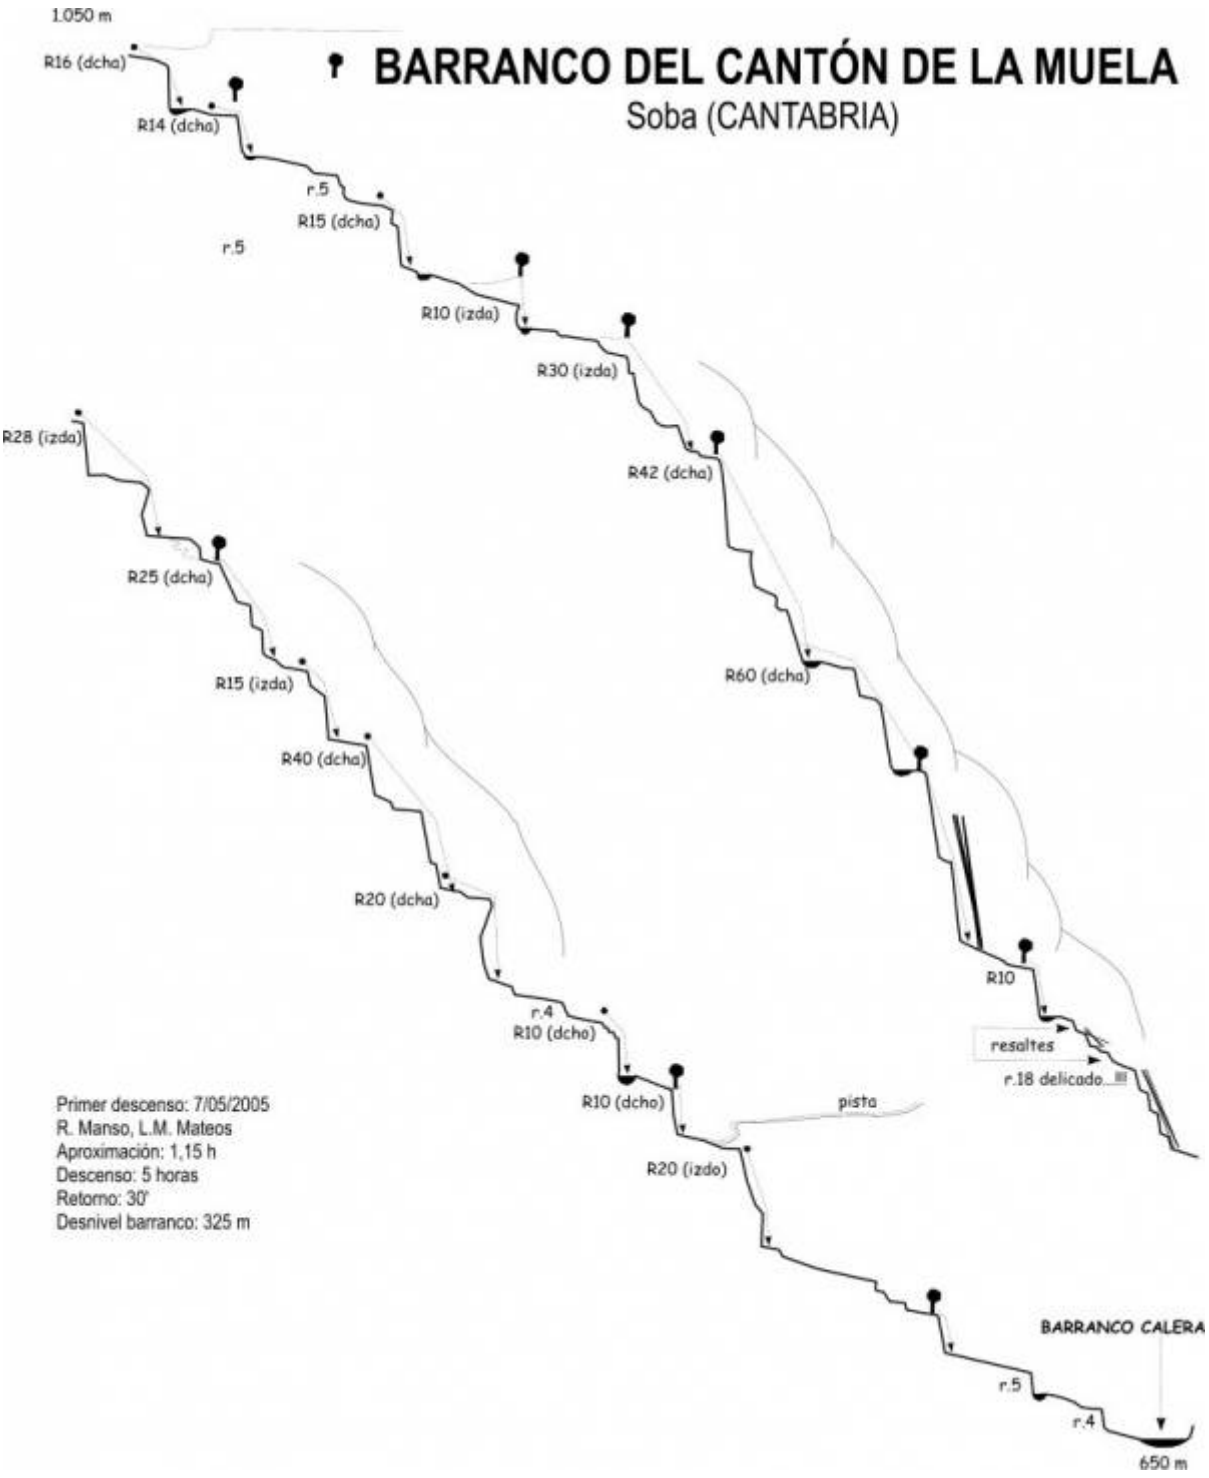

Return: (machine translated)
Along the trail to the El Prado neighborhood
