Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Short and simple descent perfect to complement a day or to start this sport.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Not necessary, but you could go out on the hillside.

Access: (machine translated)
Take the N230 to Pont de Suert. Here we turn onto the L500 towards Vall de Boi and Barruera. Arriving at Barruera, at the height of the gas station we will see a detour to the right to Durro, we take it, go over the bridge and at the left turn we will see the stream of Durro on our left and place to park.
If we take two cars, with the access car we continue along the road and at the second turn closed to the left we have the access, we park where we do not disturb.

Approach: (machine translated)
With a car we drive up the road to the second sharp left turn, a trail leads to the creek.

Tour: (machine translated)
Simple, with nothing remarkable. In spring with thaw and rain can catch enough flow but it is difficult to give problems.

Return: (machine translated)
You can practically reach the car
