Summary: (machine translated)
Also known as Racó dels Degotalls, it is a canyon with interest if the rest is over water, in the rest of cases its interest is of collecting. The only remarkable thing is its waterfall of 60m divided into 20+40.
Regulation of the Parc Natural del Port:

Hydrology:
Posibles

Access: (machine translated)
We are located in Roquetes, next to Tortosa.
Following direction to the park of the Ports by the T342, after 3kms we turn left towards Mont Caro. Two kilometers after passing the canal we turn left. On this track we will go until we can not more (Corral de Colomet) and turn left and after 20m a detour to the right (Caramella road).
We can park at the end of the track at Casa Carvallo if there is room and if not a little further up in a parking lot on the right.

Approach: (machine translated)
Access to ravines in the area
Same approach as to Caramella, we follow the path that goes along the stream, crosses to the orographic right. Soon the path separates and we turn left, go up the ravine by the cliffs to above the Cua de Cavall and cross the stream. Here we turn off the climb to Caramella, we will throw us to the right we will go up the lack of the mountain following the strata and the occasional cairn, we will pass to the next generally dry slope. This is our ravine

Tour: (machine translated)
Fairly open, with some well excavated rappels and others that can be avoided on the sides. The best part is the 60m split rappel.

Return: (machine translated)
Arriving at the Caramella, we will take the path to the left that goes down the ravine.

Coordinates:
