Summary: (machine translated)
In the area of Cariñena we have this aquatic hiking, some beautiful straits in which we will only have a couple of depressions. The neoprene will be necessary outside the summer, in summer the straits we will find them full of people taking a bath in its final part.
Caution in times of heavy rainfall in the part of the straits.

Access: (machine translated)
Getting in Cariñena on the A23 Zaragoza-Teruel
With the return car we leave Cariñena to take the N330 until the same town, we take the detour to Belchite and Villanueva de Huerva by the A220 until kilometer 31. We turn right towards Tosos by the CV102 until Santa Bárbara to take the small road to Las Torcas Reservoir. After a few kilometers we will leave the detour of the dam on the left and continue along the road, a few kilometers after a hut and a track on the left that goes down to the ruins of a hermitage.
With the access car we leave by Paniza (pk 232), from here to Aladrén by the CV700, just at the entrance of the village a track on the left with signs to the cemetery and the Valhondo ravine. Before reaching the cemetery we take the track on the right that runs parallel to the ravine until a kilometer later where we park.

Approach: (machine translated)
From the Aladrén parking lot, it is immediate.

Tour: (machine translated)
It is better to do it when the Huerva river is flowing to be able to jump into the pools and enjoy the shapes and reflections.

Return: (machine translated)
We arrive at the reservoir, we turn left towards the ruins.
