Summary: (machine translated)
Dry canyon except for heavy rains. Very interesting since in its short route we will not leave the ropes at any time. It is located in the same area as others to access from Jalance so we can combine them very easily.
There is a new return by the pedrera created by the landslides, it is no longer necessary to get your feet wet in the river.
Please follow the new track that Juan Sánchez García (Aiguaroca) has offered us to avoid going through private property.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
In the first part, up to R35

Access:
Acceso zona Jalance
Debemos situarnos en Jalance por la N330.
Acceso Bcos Jalance
Entrando desde el lado de Requena por la antigua nacional llegaremos dentro del pueblo a una curva cerrada de izquierdas donde tenemos el desvío a la derecha hacia la Cueva de Don Juan y el Mirador de los Cañones del Júcar. Seguiremos las indicaciones para la Cueva de Don Juan mientras salimos del pueblo.
Una vez fuera del pueblo llegaremos a una curva cerrada de derechas con un carretera de frente (Cueva de Don Juan).
Pasaremos por unas curvas enlazadas (horquillas) por las que subiremos a la parte superior. Un kilómetro después, por los campos de cultivo, tendremos un desvío. A la derecha iremos a la Cueva y al Mirador, aparcamientos de Alejo Gómez, Largo, Capellanes... y Useros. Por la izquierda 6kms iríamos al Moragete.
Tras el mirador, a 1 km la carretera se dirige a la cueva, estaremos atentos de en una curva cerrada de izquierdas tomar la pista que sale de frente, el primer cauce que cruza es Capellanes, el segundo Robles y al poco veremos unos cultivos y la Casa Useros, aparcamos.

"The owner of the house does not like to be parked in the tilled area, it is better to leave the car in the area where the waypoint "Parking" is marked. He also recommends not to pass through the middle of the olive trees, he told us to pass right next to the wall of the house, so we don't step on the field. Try to respect him. "

Please note that the area is a private estate.
According to the exit track of the Useros ravine, it passes through a private property.
"The correct access is to continue along the path of the exit route, following the path or the edge of the canvas until you reach the road." New track posted without passing through private property.

Tour: (machine translated)
Two parts, the first one more open and with easier rappels, with a loophole before the R35, from here it gets more closed and we have rappels up to 50m.

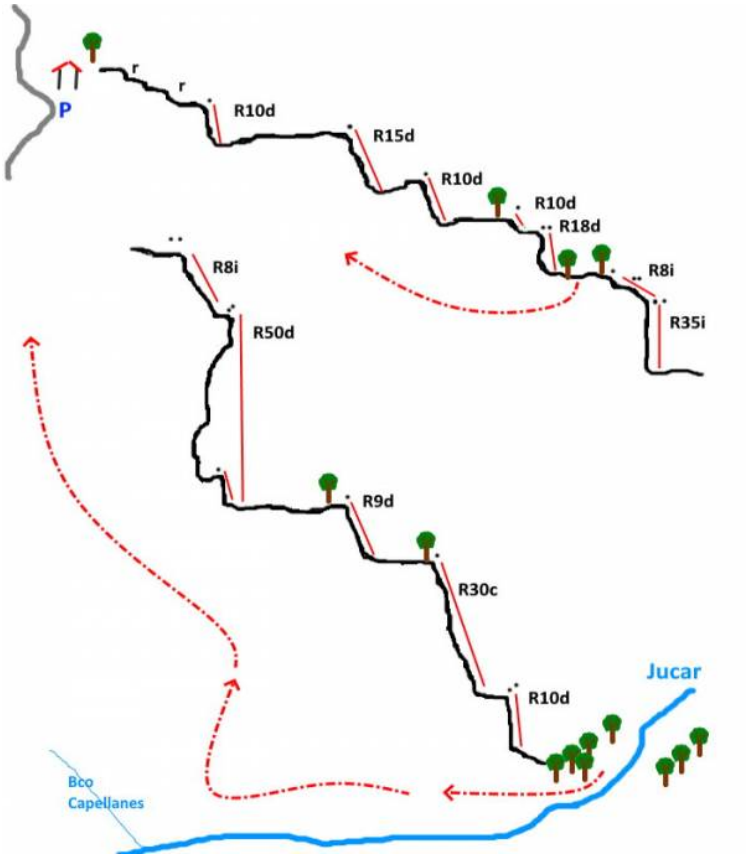

Return: (machine translated)
Upon reaching the Júcar we will go to the right along the shore (we will get wet) and walk to the end of the Bco Capellenes and return by its return. We will leave by the path that goes up to the Useros, a little loser.or go to the left to look for the pedrera, made by the landslides, until we reach the high part.always looking for the milestones and the path that is also something loser.so we will avoid getting wet.
