Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Simple descent with a single 20m rappel and several jumps to pools. In summer it loses grace for being the river in a thread.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Throughout most of the route

Access: (machine translated)
We will go to Ezcaray, for it by the N120 we arrive to Santo Domingo de la Calzada and here crossing the village, we take the LR111.
Once in Ezcaray we follow the signs to the ski resort to leave the village, after crossing the bridge we will be on the LR415 that after passing through Posadas and Urdanta will take us to the Cruz de la Demanda. After a little more than 3 kms from Posadas we will see a track on the right in a left curve that goes down to the river. Here we can leave the car to return.
If we have an access car we follow the road to Llano de la Casa and its recreational area.

Approach: (machine translated)
If we only have one car we will drive up the road to Llano de la Casa.
We access the river from the recreational area.

Tour: (machine translated)
Descent without anything remarkable, the 20m rappel, a couple of jumps and little else. To entertain us with the water in May/June.

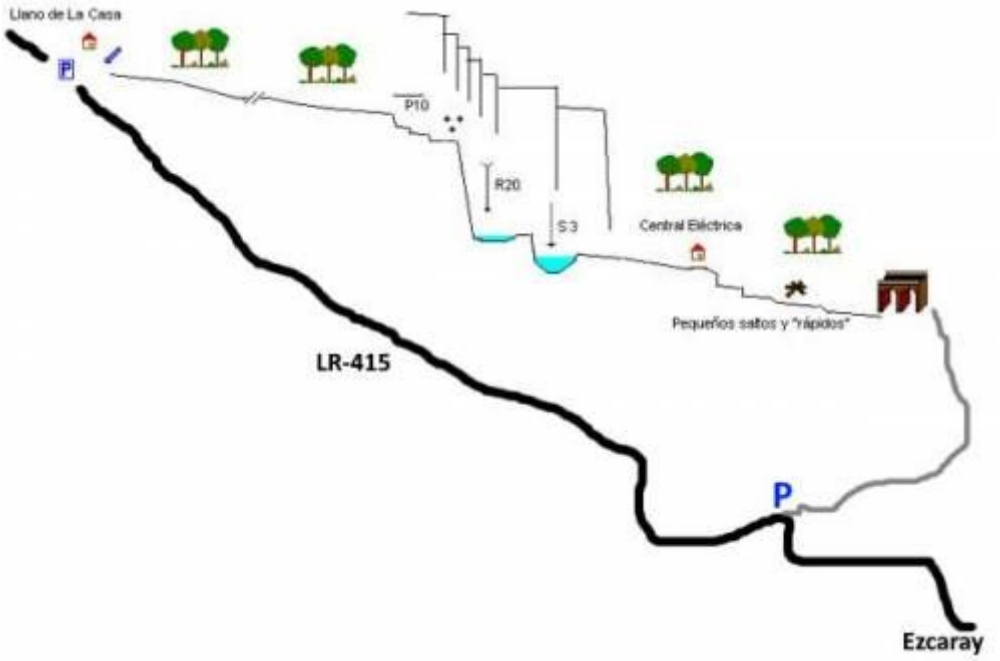

Return: (machine translated)
After the hydroelectric plant, we soon find a bridge, take it to the right and go along the track to the road where we left the car.
