Summary: (machine translated)
Beautiful canyon where we will go water hiking and enjoy a nice swim in summer while contemplating the shapes of the rocks.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Except in the most boxed-in area

Access: (machine translated)
Along the CM210 that goes from Molina de Aragón almost to Cuenca, crossing the Alto Tajo in an area of great ecological value.
From Cañamares to Puente Vadillos, after passing the campsite, just where the road turns left to pass the bridge, we will continue straight ahead to Fuertescusa and Poyatos. We will leave the Cañamares bathing area on the left, continue on and pass the pretty village of Fuertescusa with its ferrata "Asalto al Castillo K2-K4".
Shortly before arriving at Poyatos at the height of the camping the serranía take the road that goes to the right (direction Tragacete), by here we will travel about 10 kms, until passing the Tejadillos Hostel and after 300m we will have the detour to the left to the Recreational Area of the Lagunillos where we will park.

Approach: (machine translated)
From the recreational area we go down to the riverbed.

Tour: (machine translated)
River hiking among crystal-clear water pools

Return: (machine translated)
When it opens it receives a stream on the left and we have the track on the right, through the forest we go up to it.
